Watson Tells Chamber IBM Here to Stay; 78 Teachers Tour 20 Firms for Study

Day's Program Planned By CC Education Group

Job Opportunities, Economic Plan, Free Enterprise System Are Stressed

Kingston's first Business-Education Day today afforded 78 teachers from Kingston High School and St. Ursula's Academy the opportunity to view the operation of 20 local firms.

The firms, cooperating with the Education Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce which planned the day's program, conducted an informative program regarding their business.

A plant tour, which was part of each program, covered such subjects as problems of business, economic importance to the community, job opportunities, jobs involved, competition involved and the value of our free private enterprise business system.

Each participating teacher and each cooperating firm will be asked to fill out a brief questionnaire to enable the committee to evaluate the program, which started on schedule at 9 a. m. when the assembled teachers at the high school were transported by the firm representatives to the various business locations throughout the city. The program was under the direction of Arthur Buddenhagen, chairman of the education committee.

A SHORT program, which included a luncheon, was held at 12 noon at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The following is a list of firms visited together with their number of employes, annual payroll, type of business, area of service and firm officers:

NEW YORK TELEPHONE Company, 14 Henry street—Years in business, 75; Employes, 500; Annual payroll, $2,058,000; Area of service, Ulster county (10 exchanges); Firm officers, Keith S. McHugh, president; J. W. Johnson, district manager, R. J. Dalton, local business manager.

ELECTROL, Inc., 85 Grand street—Years in business, 29; employes, 400; type of business, hydraulics manufacturer; area of service, United States, Canada, and some European countries; firm officers, B. Farrelly, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church and the Rev. Kenneth N. Alexander, DD, president of Kingston Ministerial Association. (Freeman photo).

Electric Typewriter Is Big Factor in Economy

President Assures Firm Won't Move If Defense Contracts Come to End

A growing Kingston IBM plant integrated with the life of the area, employing Kingston and area people and dedicated to the manufacture of electronic computers vital to national defense was described Wednesday night by Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of International Business Machines, in an address to approximately 350 persons attending the 1956 annual banquet of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, Inc., at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The "heart of the Lincoln computer," the semi-automatic miracle machine which can detect, track and direct the destruction of enemy aircraft approaching American shores. will be made by the local plant under the skilled management of Gavin A. Cullen, Mr. Watson said.

THE ECONOMY of the Kingston plant will not be based solely on construction of vital parts for the Lincoln computer, however, Mr. Watson emphasized. Foreseeing the possibility that the Lincoln project might "run out one day," for one reason or another, IBM has also established a typewriter plant near the city in order to assure a solid economic foundation for the area.

IBM will not "just pick up its tents and steal away," Mr. Watson assured his audience, pointing out that the market for electric typewriters was accelerating, with revenue last year four times as much as it was in 1947.

TWENTY-FIVE per cent of all typewriters manufactured in the United States are electric, he said. Of these. 50 per cent are manufactured by IBM.

Mr. Watson said IBM was obligated to Kingston, felt extremely "lucky" to be here and had never received a "better reception" anywhere. He also congratulated the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce for its far-sighted activities and the strides made by the area in recent years.

"We are proud to be a part of your community and hope you will grow to be proud of us." He pointed out that IBM had never been in a community where it had received more cooperation than it had in Kingston.

Mr. Watson said corporation income had doubled every five years since its founding in 1914 and that the half billion dollar income of 1955 might increase to a billion dollars by 1960. "To do this we have got to do a lot of hustling, and a lot of hustling is being done right here."

STRESSING particularly the theme of integration and cooperation with the city of Kingston, Mr. Watson pointed out that IBM employed some 40,000 persons in this country and many other thousands abroad and that they were believed to be quite well contented with the conditions and benefits of their employment. Explaining that IBM wanted to be "good neighbors" with the Kingston area, Mr. Watson asked that annoyances over any aspect of IBM activity in the local area be called to the attention of local officials.

Mr. Watson touched briefly on the settlement of the anti-trust suit against IBM yesterday afternoon by consent decree, saying it came as a "great relief" that no part of the company had been taken away. He said he felt it boded a good future for the company.

Mr. Watson described a "dramatic possibility" to his audience in which a fleet of enemy bombers laden with deadly hydrogen bombs might approach American shores.

APPROACHING at a rate of 700 m.p.h. low on the water and splitting up into groups they would be picked up automatically by radar, tracked by computers, tactics suggested, counter-measures "vectored" toward the oncoming planes with the probability that "none would ever reach the shores of the United States."

This effect would be made possible largely through the work of the Kingston plant in the production of Lincoln computers for air force project SAGE, Mr. Watson stated.

HE EXPRESSED hope and belief that the contingency of which he spoke would never happen but pointed out that in such eventuality "we will be ready due to the efforts of the people of Kingston."

Mr. Watson described the "small-town philosophy" of IBM, the Golden Rule established as a fundamental precept by Thomas J. Watson Sr., and still strictly supported by IBM's 82-year-old founder.

He said his father maintained a profound belief in the "dignity of man," had been for much of his life a poor man and had acquired through experience a sympathetic understanding of the "other man's problems." He said his father had always "put himself in the other man's shoes . . . That's what we ask our plant managers to do."

IT HAD ALWAYS been felt that IBM machines could raise the dignity and standard of American life, Mr. Watson said. He cited this as one of the keystones of IBM philosophy—the use of machines to enable man to use his brain more and his body less.

Mr. Watson praised Sen. Arthur H. Wicks with whom he was associated on the New York State Commission on Juvenile Delinquency, pointing out that Sen. Wicks knew how to "get things done," that he epitomized the expression, If you want to get

168,275 Licenses Affected in 1955

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—The State Motor Vehicle Bureau revoked 14,093 drivers' licenses last year and suspended 154,182 more setting an all-time record in both categories.

The 1955 total of suspensions and revocations was 168,275, the bureau reported today, compared with 163,123 in 1954. Last year, the bureau revoked 12,870 permits and suspended 150,253.

Newburgh Gets Offer by State For Arterial Road

A $9,853,000 plan for development of an 8.8-mile arterial route system in Newburgh and vicinity, designed to remedy traffic ills that now threaten the economic future of that city, was offered to Newburgh and Orange county officials today by John W. Johnson, state superintendent of public works.

Newburgh is the 54th city to which the state has presented an urban arterial plan since the program was instituted in 1946. To date, 45 cities have approved their general plans for arterial routes and some construction is underway in 32 of them. Kingston plans are now under way.

ONE OF THE two routes would provide a new four-lane divided north-south Route 9W alignment about three-fourths of a mile west of the existing route, which runs along Robinson avenue. The other, an east-west route, would improve existing South street and extend it through Downing Park as far east as Liberty street. This South street arterial would have two travel lanes and two parking lanes.

The nearby state thruway, the projected Newburgh-Beacon bridge at the northeast outskirts of Newburgh, and a proposed east-west interstate route along the north city line, all were taken into consideration in preparing the state plan. With connections to these facilities,

Freeing of IBM Patents Leaves RCA Alone on Antitrust Calendar

Pre-trial settlements freeing patents of International Business Machines Corporation and another giant in electronics left pending today only one government antitrust case in the field, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington.

THIS CASE, involving Radio Corp. of America (RCA), the AP said, is currently on the trial calendar of the Federal District Court at New York city.

RCA attorneys were reported to have been in Washington recently for conferences at the Justice Department, and a trip to New York city late yesterday by Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes led to speculation that negotiations for a settlement of this litigation also might be in progress.

THE DEPARTMENT declined comment on the speculation, asserting Barnes was in New York to attend a bar meeting, according to the AP.

The second antitrust patent settlement in as many days was announcel late yesterday by Atty. Gen. Brownell in the case of International Business Machines Corp. (IBM). The first, announced Tuesday, involved American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and its affiliate, Western Electric Co.

The attorney general said a consent judgment, entered in the New York Federal Court, will require IBM to make all of its present patents, and those obtained in the next five years, available to anyone wanting to use them for manufacturing in the United States.

THE PATENTS relating to tabulating cards and card-making machinery will be on a royalty-free basis. Those covering tabulating and electronic data processing machines—sometimes called "electronic brains"—must be supplied to all applicants, along with IBM "know-how," at reasonable royalties.

Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of IBM, called some of the terms accepted by his company "severe." He said IBM's consent "is not an admission of any violation of the antitrust laws, which we continue emphatically to deny having violated."

MR. WATSON further stated to The Freeman here Wednesday at the annual banquet of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce:

"It is our opinion that IBM will continue to be successful under the terms of the judgment. However, we would not be realis-

State Realtors' President To Address Dinner Feb. 8

Carl A. Willsey, president of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards, will address the annual dinner of the Ulster County Real Estate Board Wednesday, Feb. 8, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Also attending the dinner, according to Dewey Logan, local realtor, will be John C. Fisher, Jr., executive vice-president; Charles Boos of Poughkeepsie, state treasurer, and several other well-known men in the real estate field.

Benson Krom, is president of the Ulster realtors.

During a recent meeting of the county board, many local problems were discussed and it was announced that the Ulster board rates 16th place member-wise out of 55 throughout the state.

At the next monthly meeting President Krom will report on the dinner meeting of the Orange County Realtors which he attended. Another report is expected from Lawrence J. MacAvery, regional state director, who attended the state meeting of the directors at the Concord Hotel. The 1956 state convention is scheduled for the Concord.

Also discussed at the recent meeting were reports from the appraisal society, property owner division, legislative and insurance committees and the 1956 convention.

Noted Labor Speakers To Talk Here Saturday

Some of the outstanding labor leaders of the nation were named today as speakers for Saturday's rally here to discuss an influx of building interests that might tend to "break down union conditions and living standards."

This announcement came from Secretary Stephen Gill of the Ulster-Sullivan Counties Building Trades Council, who said that the mass meeting was arranged by direction of Michael J. (Sam) Doyle, president of the organization.

Saturday's session is scheduled for 2 p. m. at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium. It was estimated by Mr. Gill that 5,000 would attend to hear the speakers.

President Doyle of the two-county organization, and business agent for the Ornamental Iron and Structural Steel Workers, as master of ceremonies, will introduce the following labor leaders:

John O'Donnell, Lindhurst, L. I., vice president of the Carpenters & Joiners of America.

Harold Mills, Newburgh, international organizer of the Lathers Union.

James Cole, St. Louis, international organizer of the Iron Workers Union.

Edwin Perry, Albany, organizer for the Electrical Workers Union.

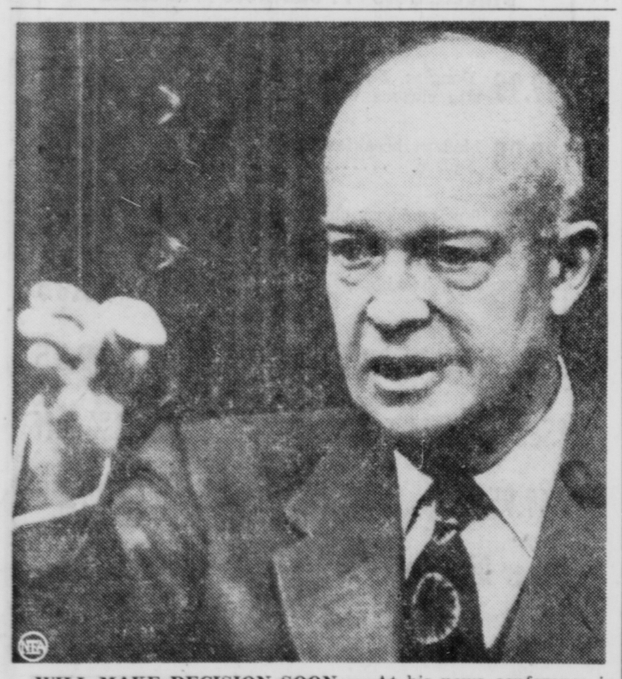

Albert J. Melville, public relations representative of the Ulster-Sullivan Counties Building Trades Council, said that plans were completed for the Saturday rally during a meeting of delegates from 19 trade unions held this week at Fallsburgh.

Public notices of the mass meeting said:

"We are prepared to go all out to combat and fight anyone coming into this vicinity and trying to break down the union conditions and living standards that we have built up over a period of years for the workingmen in this vicinity."

Although the union group made no specific mention of any one project, it is surmised that their aims are directed at developments planned for the area, with special emphasis on construction of housing.

Pickets were recently assigned to the Flatbush section where foundations were started for a building by non-union laborers as part of an announced $60 million new park type community.

WILL MAKE DECISION SOON — At his news conference in Washington, President Eisenhower announces that he probably will undergo his next important medical examination between Feb. 10 and Feb. 15. The President also said that he would not delay too long after that date on a decision whether to seek re-election. (NEA Telephoto).

Downtown Sentiment for Rebuilding On Cleared Land Before Other Areas

Downtown residents last night weighed the possibility of lack of emphasis on new building for the area at a meeting in the Recreation Center, 97 Broadway, and named a group to stress building redevelopement at the February Common Council meeting.

George E. Yerry, Jr., chairman of the Kingston Housing Authority, said today, however, that the authority is directly concerned with new building for the downtown section.

Yerry and Alexander Yosman, Colonial Gardens manager, yesterday conferred with Commissioner James McMurray, State Division of Housing, in New York, and will discuss another local housing project at a meeting of the local authority Feb. 1.

The Downtown Businessmen's Association, which sponsored last night's meeting, elected Alfred J. P. Seitz president to succeed Henry Singer.

Other officers elected were; Louis Tudoroff, vice-president; Elmore C. Yallum, secretary; and William J. C. Buddenhagen, treasurer.

Main sentiment of the meeting summed up to a general fear that the downtown area would be used largely as one for the required sub-standard clearance phase of future state-sponsored housing, and might miss redevelopment as a main project area.

Yerry, when questioned this morning as to this fear of the area being by-passed, said the housing authority takes the stand that any renewal project for the downtown area that is "both commercial and residen-

Route 209 Crash Is Fatal To Upstate Man Wednesday

A 52-year-old Jamestown man was killed and another man painfully injured in a head-on collision about 6 p. m. yesterday on Route 209 a mile and a half south of Stone Ridge, it was reported by Kingston state police.

Gale William Kelley was pronounced dead on arrival at Kingston Hospital.

Donald Charles Tice, 21, of Summitville, was rushed to Kingston Hospital by Schultz ambulance where his condition this morning was reported as "fair." He suffered head and face lacerations and a fracture of the left femur.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle said this morning he was withholding his verdict pending further investigation. An autopsy was performed last night by Dr. Bernard Adilman, consultant pathologist of the hospital.

Troopers William Shurter and Edward Shannon reported that Mr. Kelley, a salesman for A. Polsky Co. of Akron, O., was ap-

Suggestion Made for Helping Low Income Farm Area Folks

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—The Committee for Economic Development suggested Wednesday the government should explore the idea of offering financial aid to farm families who want to quit an over-expanded agriculture.

It suggested also that the government study the possibility of encouraging industrialization in rural areas.

THE COMMITTEE—which describes itself as a nonprofit, nonpolitical research and education organization supported by business concerns—said agriculture's present economic distress reflects too much production of some farm products, too much instability of farmers' income and too many full time farm families with very low incomes.

They were, meanwhile, these other devolpments in the politically explosive farm situation:

1. A group of about 25 midwestern Republican House members arranged to call on Secretary of Agriculture Benson to present proposals for emergency action to bolster prices. "We want action, and action now," said Rep. Lovre (R-ND), heading the unofficial nine-state delegation.

2. Sen. Young (R-ND) said "it will be a miracle" if Congress can act on new farm legislation before crop planting time. Young noted that the Senate Agriculture Committe on which he serves has just started to draft a bill, which then will require action by the Senate and the House.

THE CED STUDY of the farm situation was made by a research and policy committee headed by Frazar B. Wilde, president of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co., Hartford.

It went on record for the administration's flexible price support system and for the new administration soil bank plan to pay farmers for taking land out of production as a means of bringing production and consumption into balance within a five-year period.

To alleviate problems of about one million farm families in areas of persistent low incomes, the committee recommended "stimulation" of migration from the land to urban areas. It added that farmers who remain in low income areas should be assisted in obtaining larger farms.

THE MIDWESTERN House Republicans prepared to urge Benson to launch large-scale purchases to support hog and cattle prices, and to ease farm credit restrictions, including a moratorium on federal farm mortgage loan payments.

"The farm cost-price squeeze cannot be permitted to continue," Lovre told newsmen. "We must couple emergency measures now with the long-range program, and we are prepared to move heaven and earth to get it accomplished."

IN HIS ECONOMIC message to Congress yesterday, President Eisenhower put new farm legislation as the "first and most pressing" job before Congress.

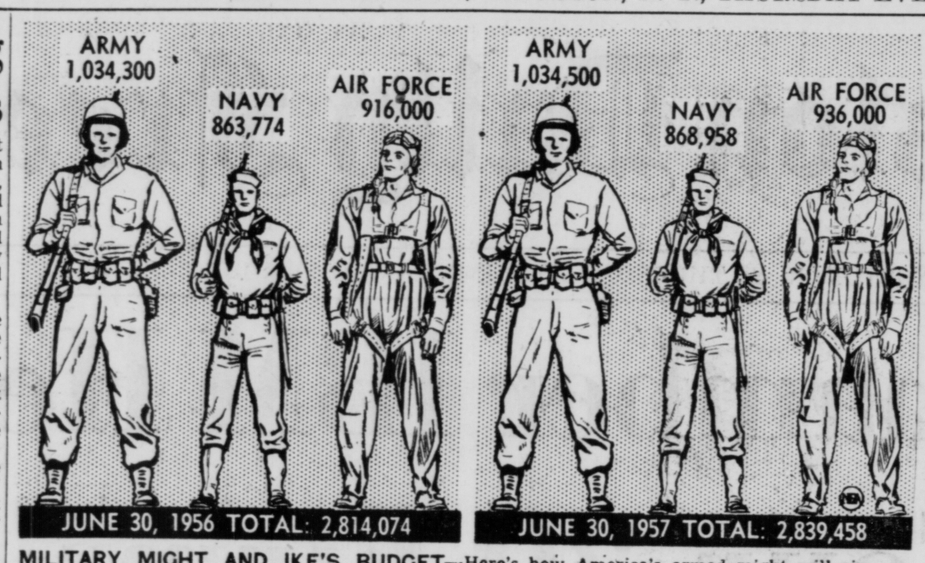

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, assistant GOP House leader, said this emphasis was proof that "no American farmer need have any fear that he is the forgotten man as far as the Republicans are concerned."

DESPITE YOUNG'S avowed pessimism about prospects for early action, Chairman Ellender (D-La) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said he still hopes on omnibus farm bill will get through Congress before the end of February.

Ellender and Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), senior GOP member of the committee, reported general agreement was reached yesterday on desirability of the soil bank program, but they said details hadn't been worked out.

Benson retreated yesterday from his original request for authority to sell some government-held crop surpluses at current market levels when farmers curtail plantings of cotton, wheat, corn and rice under the soil bank plan.

This brought protests from both Republicans and Democrats that such sales could push prices even lower. Benson, in a letter made public by Aiken, withdrew the request and asked for authority to make sales of surpluses at the current price support level plus carrying charges.

MILITARY MIGHT AND IKE'S BUDGET—Here's how America's armed might will size up under President Eisenhower's fiscal 1957 budget. Uncle Sam's muscles will be slightly larger on June 30, 1957, than at the end of fiscal 1956, this coming June. However, they will be somewhat smaller in 1957 than they were at the end of 1955. Estimated military strength on Dec. 31, 1955, has been placed at 2,900,000. Figures are from the Department of Defense.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

By careful shopping, you should be able to find special prices on just about any kind of meat you want for this weekend.

A survey shows that some of the nation's food stores will feature chuck roast for economy and others will trim prices on prime ribs for sumptuous eating. There'll be specials, too, on sirloin steaks.

LOINS OF PORK will be widely featured, but you can look for higher prices on pork next week because hog quotations have risen. In fact, one large chain is posting increases of six cents a pound this week on center cut pork chops.

Some markets plan to offer attractive prices on smoked picnics and fresh hams. Bacon continues on the bargain counter.

Prices on the popular leg of lamb will vary, climbing two to six cents a pound in some places and dipping two to four cents in others.

Some stores will feature shoulder and rib lamb chops.

Frying chickens will cost about the same as a week ago in most areas but will be higher elsewhere.

EGG PRICES are going down. Reductions of two to four cents a dozen on large grade A whites will be fairly common.

The lis t of especially good buys in vegetables is rather short.

Produce men say that iceberg lettuce, potatoes and onions are the best buys. They also recommend Canadian turnips, sweet potatoes, pascal celery and cabbage.

Among vegetables described as "moderately priced" are cauliflower, broccoli, cucumbers, peppers, beets, beans, squash and carrots.

Good value in fruit is to be had in limes oranges, grapefruit, tangerines (although they're a little higher), emperor grapes and apples. If you like out-of-season items, you'll be glad to know that plums, peaches and nectarines are beginning to arrive from Chile.

By Return Mail

Rockford, Ill. (AP)—Police are busy locating the owners of 80 stolen wallets found in a box beside a drive-up mail box. Oscar Bratton, superintendent of a branch post office, said they were neatly packed in the box with identification still intact. By questioning the owners police hope to learn how the thief operated.

GOP MONEY-RAISER—Blown-up version of the new Republican money-raising stamp is displayed by Nikki Balch in Ada, Idaho. The stamp was originated by the Ada County Republican Women's Club and is being distributed nationally by the GOP. It was introduced officially at the "Salute to Eisenhower" dinner held recently in Ada. On Nikki's lap is a tray of the stamps in actual size.

Along Capitol Corridors

BY HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 25 (AP)—On the surface it appears that former Governor Thomas E. Dewey has divorced himself completely from the affairs of the state government.

Republican legislative leaders say Dewey has not called, telegraphed or otherwise communicated with them about state matters or related political angles since he returned to law practice in New York last January.

BUT HAVE THEY communicated with him? Maybe not directly. There is reason to believe, however, that the old master's counsel has been sought and obtained from time to time as knotty problems have arisen.

Judson Morhouse, Republican state chairman (handpicked by Dewey) consults with the former governor on occasion.

There is no evidence that Dewey and Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits, the only Republican to win a statewide office in the 1954 election, talk things over.

But there are indications that Dewey still wields influence on appointments that are wholly within the province of the Republican-controlled legislature.

FOR EXAMPLE, it is said that, with Dewey's support, T. Norman Hurd is to be named to the Board of Regents. Hurd was Dewey's last budget director. He's back teaching at Cornell University.

Generally speaking, however, Dewey seems to have removed himself from the thick of Republican things at the state capitol. His role is more or less that of an elder statesman.

It's more profitable to practice law and there are fewer headaches.

R. Burdell Bixby, one of Dewey's law associates, says the former governor "is extremely happy" practicing law and "is not fussing with politics."

Well, not too much, anyway.

62 Koreans Will Take Up Life in New Brazil Home

New Delhi, Jan. 26 (AP)—Sixty-two Koreans leave soon for new homes in Brazil after more than two years in India. They are war prisoners who elected to return neither to South Korea nor North Korea at the end of the conflict there.

India gave a haven and later Brazil offered a home to these men without a country.

They have been learning the Portuguese language. The Brazilion embassy says a majority have obtained a working knowledge of it and are discussing vocations open to them in Brazil. Most prefer farming. Others want to try industry. Four want to be clergymen and have taken a course in the Christian Theological Seminary in Poona.

Twenty ex-prisoners will remain in India when the 62 leave for Brazil. Some have asked permission to stay permanently, while the remainder seek admission to Argentina or Mexico.

Extra Prisoner

Missoula, Mont. (AP)—Escapes, yes. But how often does a jailer find one too many in counting heads in the cells? Jail Custodian Angus McIver found the one who made the long count—sitting in the jailers' own chair. The stranger was booked and convicted of prowling in the Missoula City Hall.

SLOWING THE KILLING PACE

Many times note has been taken of the stiff competitive pace at which America's top businessmen labor. The mortality and disability rate among blue-ribbon executives is shockingly high.

In a recent issue, Time magazine says the mounting business pace is creating an abnormal health problem which executives perhaps can only master by learning the art of relaxation.

Unhappily, too many businessmen "relax" as hard as they work, going at strenuous play with a vengeance, or using it as just another form of work. The golf course has been described as a "kind of office with trees."

As the experts see it, relaxation is less a matter of physical exertion than diverting one's energies to outside interests every bit as absorbing as office work. What counts is getting the mind off business, not taking business to the gym or golf course.

Time says some businessmen are realizing, too, that relaxation should include conserving energy on the job. So we hear more talk about cap-napping at the office. Who knows? The siesta may become as popular in Wall Street as the dance, the "cha-cha-cha," is on Broadway.

Clearly American executives have got to slow down. If they don't, we'll soon be losing so many of them that the country will start slowing down.

THE BIG LOSERS

So far, of the many contestants who have appeared on the country's most popular TV program, "The $64,000 Question," only two have taken the risk of trying for the top prize. The others have stopped at $32,000, $16,000, or still lower levels.

One reason for this is obvious enough—the terrific bite that the progressive income tax takes out of large incomes or winnings. For example, if a single man with other income of $4,000 were to actually clear $64,000, after taxes, the prize would have to be an incredible $448,711!

That's tough on individuals—it's far tougher on the country at large. This is the all-important point made by the Akron Beacon-Journal when it says: "Many a businessman has asked himself this $64,000 question: Shall I invest, expand, create more jobs with the hope of making more money? And after studying the tax rates, he too, has often decided to quit while he was safely ahead. The big losers from such decisions are not the businessmen—nor the television contestants—but the small taxpayers and Uncle Sam."

HARD-WORKING FARMERS

The Census Bureau confirms a fact that has been long accepted: farmers work in the city. The average work week for farm laborers has declined since 1947, but farmers and farm managers still work about 57.2 hours a week.

By its nature farming calls for more work and longer hours. Often during the busy season farmers work with the light. With modern methods, such as lights on tractors, farmers are sometimes still at work after dark has set in.

Technical advances in agriculture have made the farmer's job easier. A lot of the strain has been taken off his back by powered equipment. But the economics of farming has made it necessary for a farmer to adjust himself to the new situation and to assure himself of an adequate family income.

Despite the long hours and the hard work a great many people find farming a satisfying way of life. It is fortunate for the country and for the world that this is so. Machinery has revolutionized agriculture—but the need for men and women devoted to earning a living from the soil has not diminished.

Soviet Russia is now extremely anxious to help countries build up the industries of backward countries. One word of warning: Beware of burglars selling locks.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

DECISIONS ARE DIFFICULT

As I lie here, looking at a beige ceiling, asking myself questions which only I can answer, I can well understand why Ike Eisenhower could not tell the anxious Republicans whether he would be their candidate. Cardiacs are curious people. They have had a bump not only to their heart but to their ego. In the bookkeeping of life, each cardiac knows that he might have been counted out. No one can explain to him why his case is moderate or mild and not severe.

So he lies immobilized, taken from all his importance and greatness. These heart doctors are pretty tough; they do not bargain because bad judgment means death. Rest, sedation, no telephones, no visitors; in some cases, they do not even permit newspapers or the radio.

So one thinks, and curiously most of his thinking is about himself. The cardiac, particularly a coronary, comes out of this devotion to himself a pretty chastened man. The items stack up on both sides of the ledger. It is easy to tell a huge audience what a great man you are, but what can you say to yourself, when you are all alone, and the doctor has just told you that the scar can be widened by a physical or emotional upset. Who is greater, the patient or the hypodermic needle?

The Republicans would like Ike to run because they believe that he can lead them to another victory. But his problem is that six-week period of immobilization in Denver when every day, for hours he lay on a bed, with only a nurse in the room, with his wife a limited visitor and instructed to say nothing to move him emotionally. As his intellect broke through the sedation, he was like every other coronary—the question that was never answered was, how much damage has the attack done? It was not answered to his satisfaction, even if the doctors smiled when they said whatever it was they said. The patient always feels that the doctor cannot possibly know, that he is hoping for the best.

Ike Eisenhower would undoubtedly like to please the Republicans, particularly the businessmen, who have done so much for him. He would like to run again and then he could leave administration to Sherman Adams and philosophy to his brother, Milton. After all, a general is accustomed to passing orders down the line. But this illness makes everything very tough because moral problems are generated by it. No man comes close to death without being charred by it. Things that seemed cute and smart do not look so good. The word, duty, takes on a meaning and you have to answer, duty to whom? To God? To country? To family? To self? To a group of scheming politicians who apportion whatever spoils arise from a situation? Duty to whom?

It is very upsetting to get this kind of sickness. A broken leg can be mended; but here it is to be or not to be and it might have been written not to be. It is an illness which must give even the churl a sense of history, if nothing else, his own history. Certainly Ike got more out of his American life than his parents could have bargained for; I certainly did. So the ledger is not balanced; there are obligations to pay off, profound obligations.

Does one pay off such debts by winning an election for a political party? Maybe yes! I do not lie here in judgment of any man; I have enough difficulty squaring my own accounts. Still I ask: would it be a repayment of Ike Eisenhower's great debt to America to win the 1956 Election for the Republican Party even if he knows in his heart that he cannot carry the enormous load of the Presidency? I cannot answer that question. Only he can.

But what the politicians had better know is that he will not answer it on the basis of cardiograms, or sedimentation records, or blood counts, or what this or that doctor says to him. It is too late for such things to matter.

He will answer it on the basis of one who was very close to death and who feels that his duty involves a risk of another bump, the next one a fatal bump, perhaps. He will answer after he has come altogether at peace with himself and does not fear the consequences of his decision.

Daily I am told that once cured of a coronary, one can live his normal life if his normal life has been sensible. But the man who has suffered a coronary takes on responsibilities not with the buoyant hopefulness of youth but with a sense of maturity, a great sense of personal responsibility. He has already had his gamble with life and understands what it means.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

TREATMENT OF ACNE SCARS

A subject that has aroused a great deal of discussion among skin specialists concerns the dermabrasion (rubbing or scraping the skin) treatment for acne scars. In 1952 a method was presented called skin planing and seldom has a new treatment created so much interest. Some resolutely refused to approve the treatment while others were overenthusiastic about it. The method has since been tried and accepted by many dermatologists throughout the country. Modifications have been introduced and experiences recorded and now a large enough number of cases have been observed over a long enough period that some definite conclusions can be reached concerning it.

In a report to the Committee on Cosmetics of the American Medical Association it was pointed out that the widespread interest in this new technique for the treatment of scars reveals the amazing importance of a scarred skin to a person's emotional well-being. In the beginning, understandably, practically every patient who sought treatment for scars was treated. The limitations of the treatment were not fully realized and inevitably the treatment was both abused and misused and most unfortunate were the unduly glowing accounts of the treatment that appeared in some newspaper and popular magazines.

"The operation to flatten scars is a cosmetic (beautifying) procedure, not a lifesaving one; therefore, careful selection of patients is as ethical a plan as it is wise. To treat a patient who expects a perfect result is to invite unpleasant consequences, because the results of treatment are usually good rather than dramatic. It is unwise also to treat unstable persons who attribute all of their inadequacies to the scars. Results of treatment are more satisfactory on the face than on the chest, shoulders, back or neck. Scars of recent origin apparently respond better to the treatment than do old scars. We prefer, for the time being, not to treat youngsters whose acne is still in the active stage."

The results of treatment depend to a great extent upon the skill of the operator and the depth and shape of all scars. Flat surface scars respond better than do deep-pitted so called ice-pick type of scars or the wide flat confluent (running together) scars that produce a wavy appearance of the skin. Unfortunately, the latter types occur all too often and produce the most severe defect, so that persons who need help most get it least. The results are seldom dramatic although the majority of patients are pleased with the improvement, in fact, experience a great sense of well-being from it. The treatment may be repeated several times at intervals of four to six months, if necessary. The age of the patient is not important although results seem to be better in younger persons. The presence of a few acne spots should not interfere with the treatment.

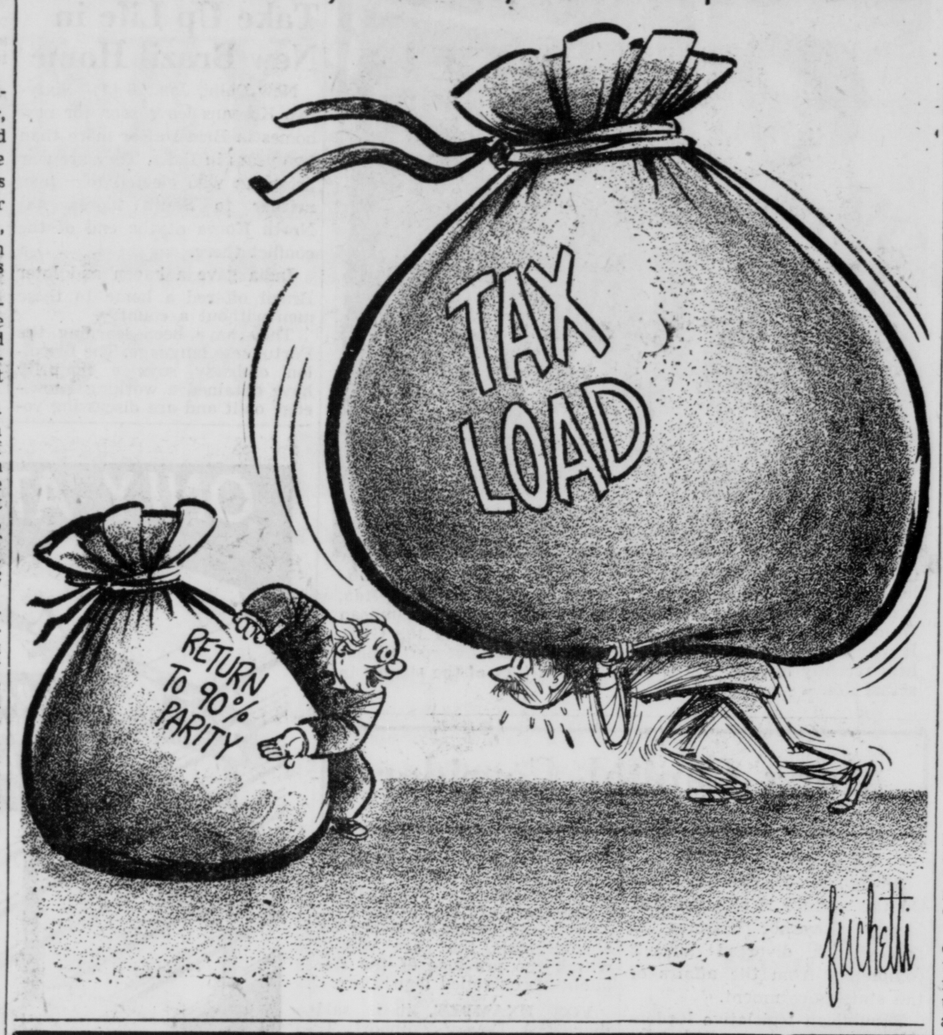

Tomorrow we will discuss the actual manner in which this treatment of acne scars is performed.

"If You Just Carry This Too, You'll Help the Farmer"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—A Communist conspiracy to destroy the value of U. S. passports and to "break the cover," or force disclosure of the identities of American security agents, has been detected by high government officials.

This situaion has been developing gradually over the past year. It arises from an organized effort to force the U. S. government to issue passports for unrestricted travel to people under Communist direction.

There have been 60 cases over the years in which the U. S. State Department has denied passports to suspected Communists. Thirteen cases arose in 1955.

The most important of them, which may be headed for an eventual Supreme Court test, concerns Leonrad B. Boudin. It may set the pattern for whether the government can be forced to issue a passport to any applicant.

ALSO, IT MAY SETTLE the issue of whether the government can be forced to disclose the identity of FBI agents or other informants on Communist activities in America.

Boudin is the son of Joseph B. Boudin, who was one of the incorporators of what later became Amtorg Trading Corp. This is the Soviet purchasing agency in America. His uncle was attorney for Earl Browder when he was head of the party.

Leonard Boudin is a former instructor at the Communist Jeffersonville School in New York. He is a lawyer who has handled many passport cases, including that of Paul Robeson.

In October 1954, Boudin applied to have his own passport renewed. He took an oath that he was not then a member of the Communist party. He refused to make an affidavit that he had never been a Communist.

BOUDIN'S PASSPORT application was twice turned down.

The second time, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made an affidavit that Boudin "has been and continues to be a supporter of the Communist movement."

Boudin filed suit in federal district court, asking that the State Department be directed to remove its restrictions on travel.

Judge Luther W. Youngdahl denied this petition. But he ordered the State Department to give Boudin's passport application a new hearing. And he ruled that "the decision must be substantiated by evidence contained in the record."

The government has filed an appeal of this ruling to higher court.

IF THE GOVERNMENT should lose its case, the Communists would be in a position to make hay. It has been said that the international Communist conspiracy needs 20,000 passports a year for its espionage and communications network. There is nothing that facilitates such travel like an American passport. Attempts at forgeries and doctoring of U. S. passports are numerous.

It is assumed that there are at least 20,000 or more Communists now operating in the American underground.

At the same time, a passport breakdown would destroy the value of the U. S. credentials as a safe conduct for legitimate travel.

The by-product of this might well be the impairment of U. S. internal security. It would give every Communist applying for a contested passport the right to make the government disclose the work of its agents combating communism.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover's recent protest against revealing the identities of his informers may be taken as an indication as to the seriousness of this threat.

Cold Remedy?

San Antonio, Tex. (AP)—E. R. Bushick, San Antonio real estate man, says he hasn't had a cold since he began eating parsley about two years ago. "I read that if people would just eat the parsley that comes on their plates at restaurants, they'd be less susceptible to colds," says Bushick. "I started doing this and haven't had a cold since."

Parliamentry System Urged For U.S. to Meet Problems

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 26—People abroad have always had difficulty in understanding why the United States government has such a rigid tenure for its President's, but never before have they been as bewildered as they are now. When they read the American newspapers today, they are confronted with these developments:

First, the Senate Rules Committee has proposed that a ten-man commission be appointed to study the question of when a President of the United States is unable to discharge his duties and should be displaced.

Second, President Eisenhower, in discussing his heart attack of four months ago, tells his press conference: "Now I have to guess is what will be the effect on the Presidency, not on me, and that is the problem..."

Here is the spectacle of the head of most powerful nation in the free world trying to guess what his health may be in a whole year of his present term and in four years of a second term, if he is re-elected.

Here is also a co-ordinate branch of the government, comprising the people's elected representatives, trying to find out what to do if the head of the government is too sick to carry on his duties for a while.

Plainly present laws do not cover the different contingencies that may arise, and it is doubtful if any law would be constitutional which sought to remove a President except by "impeachment" for having committed crimes and misdemeanors.

Only a constitutional amendment can extricate the people of the United States from the dilemma. There's a simple solution. It's one Canada has adopted. It's one Australia and New Zealand and South Africa, as well as Great Britain, have adopted. It is known as the parliamentary system, which grants to the people's elected representatives the right at any time to remove their chief executive and elect another person in his place.

THE QUESTION of whether a simple majority should be enough, as it is in many countries, or whether it should be by a two-thirds vote might be debated. But the system is flexible because, if the head of the government becomes ill, he can step down voluntarily or be retired from office, and yet he can come back to his post later if he recovers his health provided the constitutional majority of the national legislature desires him to do so.

There have been many objections on the part of people in this country to the adoption of the parliamentary system which works so well in Canada, but it cannot be denied that it provides a flexibility which the Constitution of this country does not furnish.

Why, moreover, under the present system, should any appointed or elected officer or committee of Congress decide whether a President is too ill to serve? Why should such authority be delegated to any group of physicians? Only the people's elected representatives should have that power, and this means the Congress.

IT HAS BEEN suggested that in most instances a President would voluntarily resign anyhow if really in bad health. But if he hoped to recover some day, why should he even for a little while give up his post if he can't get it back? A constitutional amendment that permits the Vice-President to become acting President would never suffice because nobody could tell just when he should cease his temporary duties and give the office back to the President who had been ill.

It has also been suggested that, if any President refused voluntary to leave his office when ill or mentally incapacitated, he could be removed by impeachment. But the Constitution limits the power of impeachment to "conviction of treason, bribery, or high crimes and misdemeanors." There is no clause in the Constitution at present implying even remotely that a President with integrity could be removed by Congress.

AN AMENDMENT to the Constitution which eliminates the word "impeachment" has long been overdue. The power to "remove a President could be vested in the Congress with a two-thirds vote required for that purpose. Along with this would have to go a provision to remove the Congress itself if a disagreement arises and to require a general election, as often happens under the parliamentary system.

Clearly under the existing Constitution, the American people could have a disabled President, a sick President and even a deranged President, and they couldn't do anything about it.

Similarly, if a President has outlived his usefulness or no longer represents the will of the country and the people want an immediate transfer of power to a new party, the parliamentary system provides that opportunity. This change certainly would do away with the dangerous interregnum that occurs when a President or his party may be defeated in November of a Presidential-election year and neither he nor the new Congress can take office till January. Two months is a long, long time in an atomic age.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The death of Ward Greene, the editor and general manager of King Features Syndicate, is a personal disaster to all of us who worked with him and of course to many others in and out of the newspaper business which he honored and adorned. I have met few persons whom I could sincerely describe as saintly but this is my opinion of Jimmie Greene and I am sure none of our writers, artists, editors, and our girls on the switchboard, will dissent. He was saintly although he once remarked in his quiet voice, faintly musical with the accent of the south, that he hated churchpeople in Georgia who used to rush up to him beaming smugly and cry "Brother, are you a Christian?"

I doubt that he really hated them because hating simply was out of his line. Sweetly generous, indiscriminate kindness was his chief trait. J. G. Gortatowsky, another member of our uptown brass, put it that unwavering loyalty was his strongest spiritual trait. I agree, but I think it is a phase of the whole soul of a man whose like I never have met. He was so generous and fair that not long ago he went after a writer, offering him a contract even though this young man had taken some terrible belts at our concern and some of our executives.

"He has been pretty rough on us," Jimmie said, "but the kid is a good writer and he seems to me to have integrity. I am afraid I like him."

Jimmie—this nickname just happened and was with him from childhood—was spotted as a great novelist in 1929 when his first book, "Cora Potts," was published and Henry Mencken went into conniptions about a new genius. Cora Potts was a madam. The theme was bold enough by itself but Jimmie's Cora Potts was an absolute challenge to morals because she was successful and still on the rise, without the slightest indication of retribution, on the last page.

I thought "Death in the Deep South" was Jimmie's best. It was a fierce, magnificent rebuke to the typical city-side gang of reporters on a "hot" murder story. It was a paraphrase of the tragedy of Leo Frank, a young Atlanta factory executive from the north who was convicted of murdering a young woman, sentenced to hang, commuted to life and, finally, lynched. The description of the heartlessness of reporters, including women, in pursuit of trifles for new leads for new editions and the anguish of the afflicted wife of the man accused took courage because the portrayals were photographic and these were people with whom he had to work day after day.

A few years ago Jimmie did a little sentimental book about a couple of dogs, called "Lady and the Tramp." It sold well but authors seldom get rich on books so when Disney made a movie of it I phoned Jimmie from Arizona to congratulate him. He thanked me but said with a dry chuckle, "only trouble is I sold it outright for very little."

Later, though, he and Disney got up a comic strip on the same theme and Jimmie recently told me this would bring him $20,000 a year as long as he wanted to do it.

As I write this, Gorty phonese from Santa Barbara to warn me not to give an impression that Jimmie was sweetly tiresome.

"I never knew any non-professional who had so many fights," he said. "He never ducked a fight or won one. When Villa raided Columbus, N. M., he secretly wired the War Department for credentials as a war correspondent and the message leaked to some of us. So we sent him a wire to drop everything and hurry to Washington. Jimmy resigned, was about to hop a day coach when we sent him another saying the War Department was advised that he was a drunken bum and therefore withdrew the credentials. Jimmie wound up in a police station, pretty well scuffed up. He hit a cop his first week in New York and Sime Silverman, of Variety, got him out of that one.

"One night in Los Angeles, he took pity on a horrible, lowdown bum sleeping in that park across from the Biltmore and, at four in the morning, tried to take this character up to share his room. The house detective stopped them and Jimmie said 'why, this is my friend.' The house dick said, 'Okay, what is his name?' Jimmie turned to the bum and said, 'friend, what is you name?' So Jimmie belted the dick and they had to call the night desk at the Examiner to keep him out of jail. He never weighed more than 130 pounds."

In the office, Jimmie often let the whole staff go at noon on very hot days. If the weather was bad in winter he would close up shop in time for the suburban people to make it home. This earned him the name of Simon Legree.

Four years ago, Jimmie was took real bad but in the last year he gained a little and was enjoying life again with Edith, his wife who had once been his secretary. Her anxiety seemed to be over until he had a heart attack on board the President Polk approaching Havana.

Jimmie was an affectionate friend of Margaret Mitchell, another reporter of his class in Atlanta. After she wrote "Gone With the Wind" he boasted proudly of their friendship. And when I first met Miss Mitchell she spent a good deal of the interview telling me what a great writer he was and of her joy in his success.

A year ago Jimmie was forbidden to drive a car. So he got a de luxe affair and a uniformed chauffeur and he recently remarked to his old friend, Gortatowsky: "Gorty, I now ride to my office in a limousine with a driver in livery and I read my New York Times and take my heart-pills. I am a success at last."

Ex-Convict Sought In Postal Thefts

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—Federal authorities today were seeking a smooth-talking, ex-convict wanted in connection with the theft of 300 postal money orders from a post office station in the nearby city of Tonawanda.

Postal inspectors yesterday obtained a fugitive warrant for Norman J. Huber, 45, a onetime resident of Cheektowaga who was released from Attica State Prison in 1949.

U. S. Commissioner Harry Harding issued the warrant, which specifically charged Huber with the theft of the money orders on Sept. 25, 1952.

An attempted fur theft in Miami, Fla., Jan. 1 led to the identification of Huber, the authorities said.

They said Huber was arrested by Miami police but later escaped.

A search of his car, however, produced 225 of the money orders stolen in Tonawanda, a money order validating stamp stolen from the Preston Hollow, N. Y., post office, several checks, U. S. savings bonds and stolen mail.

The inspectors said 69 of the stolen money orders, totaling nearly $7,000, were cashed by Huber.

They described him as a smooth talker who sometimes used the name William Huvert.

The authorities said Huber was suspected of mail theft, forgery or confidence rackets in New York, Kentucky, Florida, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Changed Story

Dallas, Tex. (AP)—Over a sociable beer a customer asked bartender Virgin M. Washam if the place ever had been robbed. "Nope," Washam said. "Well, this is it," said the customer, flashing a snub-nosed revolver. After taking $176 from the bartender, he strolled out past four other patrons and fled in a car.

Greene Farmer Is Burned to Death

A 45-year-old farmer was burned to death last night when his large farmhouse in an isolated section of the town of Cairo, Greene county, was destroyed by fire.

He was tentatively identified as John Beers. Dr. Mahlon H. Atkinson of Catskill, Greene county coroner, issued a verdict of accidental death.

Dr. Atkinson said Beers left his brother's nearby farm about 5 p. m. to go home. The blaze was discovered shortly thereafter by a Coast Guard plane which alerted the Catskill police department.

Beers had left his truck parked outside the house and apparently had dashed in to bring out something, the coroner reported.

Terrorists Back Again

Tunis, Tunisia, Jan. 26 (AP)—Isolated rebel bands and grenade-throwing terrorists have begun to reappear in Tunisia after 18 months of faltering progress toward self-government. Most of the outbreaks, which began two weeks ago, have been small. But they underline the political and economic difficulties of the French North African Protectorate.

Tremper Grange Wins Community Service Plaque

Mt. Tremper Grange 1468 won an award of merit in recognition of outstanding service to the community for 1955 according to an announcement made at the regular meeting held Monday night.

The Grange was awarded a bronze plaque mounted on mahogany and a $50 U. S. Bond by Deputy State Grange Master Vernon A. Barnhart who came from Stone Ridge to make the presentation.

This is the second successive year Mt. Tremper has won the contest which is sponsored by the National Grange and Sears Roebuck Foundation.

Hurley Grange was the only other unit in Ulster county which received an award in the contest.

Accomplishments of the Grange which influenced the award include support of the town of Shandaken blood bank and other charities in the county; painting of the local church and recreation hall, communications sent on behalf of flood control and for better highways for the area; conducted an auction for charity; contributed to the support of various churches in the area and sponsored an award for a graduating senior at Onteora Central School.

Deputy Barnhart praised the members for their good work. He asked Grangers to write to their congressmen and senators, urging their support of the Hoover Commission. He also spoke of the organization's efforts on behalf of an "eye bank" establishment.

Mr. Barnhardt was accompanied by Juvenile Grange Deputy Mrs. Claude G. Palen of Hurley and past Juvenile Deputy Mrs. Isaac Graham of Stone Ridge.

Charges Papp Is Confusing Notch Road Fund Issue

The State Superintendent of Public Works has charged that John Papp, chairman of the Stony Clove Parents Committee of Lanesville, is confusing the issue with "erroneous" statements concerning the availability of funds for improvement of Notch road in Greene county.

A letter from Supt. John W. Johnson re-emphasized his previous statements that money for that and a number of other delayed road projects must await a legislative highway allotment due to defeat of the $750,000,000 highway bond issue in November.

Papp is leader of the parents' group which had kept about 40 children from classes at Hunter-Tannersville Central School for a week following the Christmas recess in protest against cancellation of Dec. 1 bids on improvement of a four-mile stretch of road used by a school bus.

Tensions Grip India

New Delhi, India, Jan. 26 (AP)—Tensions generated by explosive regional rivalries hung over India's celebration today of its sixth anniversary as a republic. Here in the capital, it was a festive holiday with a spectacular parade and fireworks. But in Bombay City and Orissa State, it was a sober and uncelebrated anniversary. Instead of pomp, there were memories of the violence which has swept those two areas in the past 10 days and caused the cancellation of festive programs.

More Loans Needed

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—The state housing commissioner says additional state loans are needed to make "reasonable headway" in efforts to solve the middle-income housing problem. Joseph P. McMurray said yesterday the 50-million-dollar loan authorized by the voters last fall "can serve only as a beginning in a middle-income housing construction program if it is intended to meet the actual need in any significant measure."

Calls Coast Preacher

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The governing body of strife-torn Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church in Brooklyn has issued a call to the Rev. George William Barnes, of Hollywood, Calif., to become its new rector. He is wanted as a successor to the Rev. William Howard Melish, whose alleged left-wing activities have been the center of a seven-year-old split in the congregation.

Whitaker Elected Head of Craftsmen

Howard S. Whitaker was elected president of the Craftsmen's Club of Kingston Lodge No. 10, F & AM, at the Masonic Temple Monday night.

Rosendale Flood Group Expresses Thanks for Help

During a meeting of the Rosendale Area Flood Control committee Monday night following the public meeting with the Ulster County Flood Control Committee, the members adopted a resolution acknowledging the assistance of Mrs. Andrew J. Snyder of Rosendale in arranging for and directing the aid given by numerous organizations and individuals at the time of the flood.

The resolution said that her efforts in "making contacts with and arranging for Red Cross disaster aid, and obtaining volunteer workers and headquarters space therefor was considerable, and resulted in invaluable aid for the relief of flood victims in the town of Rosendale, and warrants public thanks and acknowledgment."

THE TOWN of Rosendale flood committee, with the people afflicted by the flood, officially and publicly thanked the Red Cross, Salvation Army, the Mennonite Church of Lancaster, Pa., and others who gave assistance and paid a tribute to Mrs. Snyder "who arranged for and directed the work done through the volunteer efforts of individuals and organizations, in conjunction with the Red Cross Disaster Committee, in giving relief and aid" to the Rosendale flood victims.

Officers of the Rosendale Area Flood Control Association are Edward O'Reilly, president; Joseph Bianco, vice-president; Fred Pflum, secretary-treasurer and Kenneth Roosa, official photographer. Members of the executive committee are Joseph Reid, chairman; Ernest Rossler, John Duffy, Herbert Kimker and Henry Mollenhauer. The committee, organized as a result of a mass meeting of residents last October, will send copies of the resolution to those individuals and organizations giving assistance and aid.

Crashes Living Room

St. Louis, Jan. 26 (AP)—When the engine of his navy jet plane flamed out over suburban St. Ann yesterday, Maj. Roy H. McDonald picked the only "open patch" he could see and set her down. In his path as he touched down was an approaching car, so McDonald nosed the plane up and passed right over it, he related later. The plane then skidded several hundred feet in snow, wrecking three cars and a trailer, and came to rest with its nose rammed three feet into the living room of Frank S. Kibler Sr., who was watching television. Kibler, 56, received a slight cut on the forehead.

See New Peace Move

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—Russian bosses Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita S. Khrushchev appear to be launching a new peace offensive designed to revive the "spirit of Geneva" and regain a measure of western goodwill. The timing of their moves suggests, too, that they want to offset in advance any criticism of their recent behavior which President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Eden may make following talks here next week.

Remarks on 'Short War'

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said today that "I feel it would be a tragic mistake to assume dogmatically that we will only fight a short war, and deliberately limit our preparation in consonance with that hope." The army chief of staff, in an address prepared for the Overseas Press Club, made no direct reference to air war proponents who say that atomic-air power can mean a short, fierce war instead of prolonged, traditional ground fighting.

During World War 2 there was a loss of over 4,000 seagoing ships, together exceeding 20 million gross registered tons.

Ulster Educators Attend Dinner At Paltz College

Edward Dingeldey, president of the Chambers Union Free School District No. 8, town of Ulster, board of education and Reginald Russell, principal of the school, attended the State University dinner meeting at College Union on the campus of Teachers College at New Paltz Tuesday evening. Hosts at the meeting were the four State University units in this area; the State College for Teachers at Albany, the State University Teachers College at New Paltz, the Hudson Valley Technical Institute at Troy and the Orange County Community College at Middletown.

A spokesman for the group reported the meeting very worthwhile. The topic under discussion was "The Responsibility of the School Board for a Modern School Program in Terms of the Product of the School." Speakers for the institute were: Arthur Jensen, dean of Faculty Darthmouth College; Carl Cummings, superintendent of Texas Research Laboratories, Beacon, and Mary K. Brod, past president of the New York State School Boards Association of New Rochelle.

Newburgh Ferry To Run 60 Days After January 31

Newburgh, Jan. 26 (AP)—Private operations of the Newburgh-Beacon ferry agreed Wednesday to continue running the ferry line 60 days beyond their Jan. 31 deadline so that the State Bridge Authority can take over the line without interruption of service.

Assemblyman Clinton Dominick, Newburgh Republican, announced the agreement, saying arrangements were made in Albany to clear the way for the Bridge Authority to run the three-boat ferry line until it can be replaced by a bridge over the Hudson at that point.

The necessary legislation to have the Authority take over the ferry line has been introduced in both the Senate and Assembly, Dominick said. It will take about 60 days to work out all arrangements, he said.

New License Plan

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—The Motor Vehicle Bureau said today it was ready to recommend adoption of a centralized system of registrations—streamlined by use of mechanical equipment. Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly said the system would include permanent license plates and a program of staggered registration renewals by mail. The mechanical process would use punched cards. Centralization, Kelly said, would eliminate the need for motor vehicle registration work of 58 county clerks who now serve as agents for the commissioner.

Engineer Not Deranged

Los Angeles, Jan. 26 (AP)—Cause of the Santa Fe train wreck here Sunday which killed 29 persons continued under investigation today after the engineer was given a psychiatric examination and the examining physician said he found "no signs of mental derangement." The examination of Engineer Frank Parrish, 61, was asked by Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll after he said Parrish told of seeing an orange grove shortly before the accident in the Los Angeles city limits. No such grove exists there.

Two Are Indicted

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—Two men have been charged with manslaughter in the alleged Christmas Eve abortion death of pretty, 20-year-old Jacqueline Smith, whose body has never been found. A grand jury yesterday indicted the girl's boy friend, Thomas G. Daniel, 24, and his friend, Leo Pijuan, 46-year-old hospital attendant. Authorities say Miss Smith, formerly of of Lebanon, Pa., met Daniel last June and later lived with him in his East 27th street apartment.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The stock market declined today in a quiet manner following a two-day rally.

A handful of key stocks lost more than a point. Most changes in either direction were small.

Trading was at a very slow pace, even under yesterday's 1,950,000 shares, lowest in nearly three months.

Fay Gets Parole, Can't Engage in Union Activities

Dannemore, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—Joseph S. Fay, a labor racketeer once so powerful that he ran his union from Sing Sing, will be released from prison next month.

The State Parole Board granted him parole yesterday—on condition that "under no circumstances" was he to engage "in any type of union activity in any capacity whatsoever."

Fay, 64, was convicted in 1945 of extorting $368,000 from contractors building a New York city water-supply line upstate. He was vice president of the International Operating Engineers Union. Members of the union worked on the project.

Fay was sentenced to 7½ to 15 years. In 1948 he began serving his term in Sing Sing Prison. In 1953 he was transferred to Clinton Prison here, the "Siberia" of the state prisons.

In Clinton Prison yesterday afternoon, Fay appeared before the parole board and requested his freedom. He has served eight years. He applied for parole three years ago, when he first became eligible, but was turned down. He applied again last year and again was rejected.

Will Issue Cards Soon to Prevent Sales to Minors

An identification card system for persons between 18 and 21 years of age will shortly be put into effect in Ulster county for the purpose of preventing sale of intoxicating beverages to minors. The cards will be issued by city and county officials and will contain a picture of the applicant, properly stamped with an official seal.

This system has been used very effectively in numerous cities and counties in the state and in the city of Troy is reported to have presented an 85% solution to the problem of identification of young folks seeking to be served intoxicants.

ADVOCATED by the Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealers' Association, Inc., the plan has been under study in the county for some time. Robert E. Teetsel is chairman of a committee named by the Association, with Michael Greco and Albert Barone as members.

Chief of Police Joseph Walsh of Troy, Detective Nems of the Juvenile Bureau of Troy, Police Chief Ray Van Buren of Kingston, Sheriff Cluett Schantz, Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburg, County Identification Officer Arthur Brown, Sergeant Keating and Trooper Shannon of the State Police, Chief Frank Groppe of the Ellenville police department, Sergeant Mills of the Saugerties department, President George Broome of the Hotel and Restaurant Association and his committee, met with District Attorney Howard C. St. John this week and the plan was discussed.

Chief of Police Walsh of Troy explained how the system had worked there and after a discussion it was decided to put the plan into effect in Ulster county.

The cost of printing the identification cards will be borne by the Hotel and Restaurant Proprietors' Association.

THE PLAN is advanced, not as a license to the youth to drink, but as a protection to the tavern keepers who under the ABC law are responsible for the sale to a minor. It will simply be an identification to the effect that the holder is over 18. The card bearing the holder's picture will be accepted as evidence that an intoxicant can be legally sold to the customer.

It was disclosed that frequently a tavern proprietor who makes every attempt to obey the law is presented with a "fake" identification in the form of a borrowed license or draft card. This will be eliminated with the card system which will contain a picture of the holder as well as signature.

Machinery for the issuance of the cards will be set up and it is expected the system will become effective in about a month. Places for issuance of the cards in the city and county will be announced later.

The system has been in use in Fulton, Broome, Greene, Rensselear counties and in Schenectady and Troy.

Any person who appears to be under 18 years of age and who does not supply the identification card when requested by a tavern keeper will be refused. Notices will be posted to that effect in taverns.

Compromise Left Open

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today he will keep an "open mind" on specific long-range foreign aid projects President Eisenhower may propose but will fight any blanket commitment. Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, thus left open the possibility of a compromise on the administration request for authority to make long-term commitments for development projects abroad.

Estes Calls It Politics

Green Bay, Wis., Jan. 26 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) last night described as "politics or simple boasting" the "brink of war" statements attributed to Secretary of State Dulles. Kefauver, campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination, declared the effect of Dulles' statements had been to "frighten our allies and cause the people of the United States deep concern."

Stable Homes Are Called Answer In Youth Problem

Los Angeles, Jan. 25 (AP) — There is nothing wrong with most kids today that a little more stable home life can't cure, says a judge who has handled more than 100,000 children in the last five years.

Two-thirds of all the children who have come before him in that period were from homes where there was only one parent, Superior Judge William B. McKesson found.

While admitting that "there's no single cause and no single cure" for delinquency, Judge McKesson said one of the lines he has heard most frequently from children is:

"I never see my mother and father together."

If there is an attitude of solidarity in the home, especially around the dinner table, the chances are stronger, McKesson believes, that children will be more likely to develop a sense of responsibility and not join a gang of kids out hunting excitement—and occasionally trouble.

"The kids of 1956 are no worse than those of 1906 or 1856," the judge said in an interview. "They just have more machinery for getting into trouble today."

Judge McKesson, who is shifting to the civil bench after his long period in juvenile court, says the juvenile bench is "the most challenging job I ever had" observing: "It's a field of law where you can't open a book and find the answer."

HIT AND RUN DRIVER

Editor, The Freeman:

Not until yesterday did I fully discover why we need a law with prosecution against those who fail to do the honest task of reporting accidental injury to a person, domestic animal or property.

This and a similar law carrying heavy fines for anyone failing to give over the telephone wires in emergencies have been veiled in mystery to me until . . . as I say, yesterday!

It was only a ball of fuzzy softness that faithfully hung a-jumping and a-wagging at the bus stop hour to greet the dancing mirth of two devoted masters. It was only a half-grown pup, sleek and fat with the hours of romp and fondling care. It was only an animal, dumb they say, but quick to sense he was nearly like they. With a flick of the ear, a whimper, or wag of the tail, with a pounce or a lick, a pup and a child come to know a language their own.

But this dear Sniffy will be at the bus stop no more and two broken hearts are left in the wake. Because yesterday, seven little playmates and pals of the masters' came marching sullenly to announce their witness to puppy's death.

For description, we got little, except the woman driver got out, looked at the scene, climbed back in and rode on, like dogs were a dime a dozen anyhow. A report was sent to the sheriff's office, as protection to the driver against the law, but what about the puppy's owner?

But puppies are frisky and like to run and like young children, have small mind for danger. And I've seen the time it could have happened to me, especially if I am sight-seeing while at the helm of a moving car or if I insist on gesturing and waving my hands in the air. It is likely this might happen to anyone. The "who" does not matter.

It is the inhuman act of failing to search the owner to report and utter a word of sorrow or is all this passe today? The need for a law that substitutes for a conscience bespeaks that it is outmoded and unnecessary trivial to face the owner!

If one wants to find the owner, one will. In this case, we were close by and every child of the seven, who stood lingering by, could have supplied the information.

But we were lucky! We had little friends to come and report immediately. We did not have to wait 'til dusk when we would call and call and call with no answer; then form a searching party through the woods and up and down the by-ways until perchance we would happen on the scene, shocked and exhausted! With a swift report to the owner, think of the dogs that might live if they weren't left to be run over again and again.

Juvenile Delinquent???

It occurs to me that this kind of irresponsibility is a part of moral degeneration. The worst is, it starts with adults, not with our children. If an adult says it's all right to leave a child's first pet puppy lying dead in the road and go along like nothing happened, then this is the only principle a child can know.

WALLKILL NEWS

Officers Named For Home Unit

Wallkill, Jan. 26—A regular meeting of the New Hurley Home Demonstration Unit was held at the Community Room of the Valley National Bank Monday evening, at which Mrs. Helen Palen, chairman, presided.

Members were reminded that lessons in cotton dress making will be presented in February with Mrs. Karl Halder as leader. Those signing for the course would receive additional information from the leader.

The nominating committee presented a slate of officers to take office on July 1, and the following were unanimously elected: Chairman, Mrs. Helen Garrison; vice chairman, Mrs. Betty Fox; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Mack.

Mrs. Margaret Dolan presented a very stimulating lesson on good grooming. Members attending were very pleased with the demonstrations and the hints and aid given them by Mrs. Dolan in selecting correct shades of cosmetics as well as her skill in applying make-up for each member's particular coloring and face contour.

The next food lesson will be conducted by Mrs. Madeline Dolan Monday evening, Feb. 27, at the New Hurley Church Hall, and will show the use of vegetables in cooking.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Vera Edsall and Mrs. Joan Hastings.

It was decided that cancer dressings will be made on Monday, Jan. 30, at 1 p. m. Mrs. Scarzello stressed that you need not be a member of the committee to aid in this project. Anyone interested in helping will be most welcome.

A report was given on the open house held recently at the new health center rooms. It was termed as a complete success, and an invitation is extended to anyone who did not get there to inspect the rooms at any time.

Two new members were welcomed into the group, Mrs. George Schlemme and Mrs. Arnold Terwilliger, both residents of Wallkill. Following this, plans were tentatively made and discussed for the observation of Public Health Week in April.

The joint study is by scientists of Ohio State and Ohio Wesleyan Universities who seek to identify gases in the planet's atmosphere.

Bears Only Real Souvenirs for Antarctic Crews

Aboard USS Edisto in the Ross Sea, Jan 26 (AP)—Icicles from an Antarctic correspondent's notebook:

Now that the first chapter of operation deepfreeze is ending, the biggest problem we explorers face is what to take home to the wife and kids. This land of ice and snow is the worst place in the world of souvenirs.

There is no native art, no sculpture, woodwork, beads, baskets, salad bowls or hammered silver bracelets. There are no natives.

PERFUME is available in the natural state but it is difficult to separate from the originals—whales.

The only land we have touched has been volcanic mountains and hills. Unfortunately most volcanic rocks looks like dirty pieces of mortar left over by development builders in a U. S. suburb.

For a while the huts used 40 or 50 years ago in McMurdo sound by British explorers were ripe for the picking. Then the navy clamped the lid on souvenir hunters; the old camp sites were in danger of being dismantled board by board.

So about the only genuine grown-in-the Antarctic items we can return with are our bears.

THE CREW of the icebreaker Edisto picked up a baby penguin off the ice and housed it in the machine shop. Despite the warmth, "Willie" lived three weeks, first on condensed milk fed through an eye dropper, then on hamburger and fish.

On the next to his last day, Willie, according to a crew member, was "very active and the picture of health." But suddenly he keeled over. Willie was laid out in state on a sheet on a lathe. The next day he was buried at sea with full military honors over the port quarterdeck. The machine shop crew stood at attention in two lines while a bugler played taps and the tin casket slid over the side.

TWO ROMAN Catholic chaplains have been shuttling in McMurdo Sound between the ships and to the base at Hut Point. The ships frequently were so crowded they had to say Mass in such odd places as an electric shop and sick bay. The chaplains travel mostly by helicopters but commuting in the Antarctic is not easy regardless of the method.

One day I set out from the cargo ship Wyandot and boarded the Edisto to make the 30-mile trip to the icebreaker USS Glacier in McMurdo Sound. This should have been a two-hour trip requiring no luggage. A half hour out the Edisto lost the services of one propeller and couldn't plow through the ice floes to the glacier. Then a big wind came up blowing the ice out to sea and the Edisto raced north to aid the cargo ships. Then the Edisto had to lead the cargo ships back into the Sound. Two full days after I started I returned to ice near the Wyandot, crossed over the ship and boarded the glacier which by then was tied up alongside. The man I wanted to see wasn't there.

NO CORRESPONDENT should be allowed to remain in the Antarctic more than three weeks. The cliches run out completely in that time. Although I have less than a couple of weeks to go, somebody please rush air mail a fresh supply of synonyms for ice, white, silent, continent, flat, endless, plateau, infinity, frozen, bleak, desolate, deathly quiet.

Pacific Gets New Rain

San Francisco, Jan. 26 (AP)—Heavy rain from a new Pacific storm lashed wide areas of water-logged California today. But booming mountain streams appeared to be receding after threatening farm areas in the southern part of the vast central valley with new floods. U. S. Weather Bureau Forecaster E. H. Quinn said the new storm, centered about 400 miles off the northern California coast, is expected to diminish in intensity tonight after causing heavy to moderate rain over much of the state.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

BY HAL BOYLE

New York (AP) — Joke-making has become a major American industry.

Therefore it naturally has to act like every other industry and issue an annual report.

The National Laugh Foundation, already preparing to celebrate national laugh week, which begins April 2, has just put out its report on 1955.

Here are (chuckle, chuckle) the 10 subjects it says the nation's gagsmiths made you chuckle over most last year:

The $64,000 Question, Davy Crockett, the Yellow Rose of Texas, Love Is a Many Splendored Thing, Do It Yourself, The overseas trips of Dulles, the Princess Margaret romance, automation, satellites and Liberace.

THE REPORT cites the following as typical 1955 witticisms:

A Texan bought his wife a Cadillac for a present. She turned to him and said, "Dope, what question did you miss?"

John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, was seen recently in Washington, D. C., on one of his visits to the U. S. A.

Automation is great. They've invented a thing which cleans the dishes, washes the floor and makes the bed. I've got the same thing—only I call it a wife.

RUMOR HAS it that Queen Mother Elizabeth, Queen Elizabeth and the entire royal family were ready to give their okay to the marriage between Princess Margaret and Group Captain Peter Townsend — but Danny Kaye turned thumbs down.

And then there's the kid who was hit by a flying saucer—he wouldn't drink his milk.

(Anybody laughing? Somehow, looking back, 1955 didn't seem quite that dreary, did it?

MacArthur 76 Today

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, former Far Eastern commander, is 76 years old today. MacArthur, now chairman of the board of the Sperry-Rand Corp., planned a quiet day at home in his 37th-floor suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Towers with his wife, Jean, and son, Arthur, 17.

Pleads Innocent

Schenectady, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—Harold I. Blessing, a prominent Schenectady attorney, has pleaded innocent to charges of first-degree grand larceny in connection with the handling of about $23,000 in estate funds. Blessing was arraigned yesterday before Justice Charles Hughes of State Supreme Court. Following his plea he was released on $15,000 bail. He is accused of four counts in the "conversion to his own use" of at least $13,250 from the estate of Lucy Vander Pool of Schenectady and one count charging theft of $9,644 from the estate of Dewitt Robb of Schenectady.

Wide Awake Fires

Enid, Okla. (AP)—Enid firemen said cigarettes were probably responsible for two divan fires in the same day recently—but they couldn't blame the blazes on persons falling asleep while smoking. The two unoccupied divans were sitting outside stores in the downtown section.

WHAT EDEN WILL TALK ABOUT—Map above illustrates the three most important areas of discussion for Sir Anthony Eden when the British Prime Minister arrives in Washington for discussions with Secretary of State Dulles.

British Middle-East Policy Likely to Cloud Conference

Jidda, Saudi Arabia, Jan. 26 (AP)—Britain's hardening policy in the Middle East—and American opposition to it—will cloud the Eisenhower-Eden talks in Washington.

Settlement of the Arab-Israeli strife is the main problem. British and American diplomats agree the Palestine dispute must be solved soon to stop a drift toward communism.

But there is a growing policy conflict over just how to win Arab friends and maintain western influence in this area holding half the world's oil reserves.

DEVELOPMENTS in recent months show Britain is adopting tougher tactics to retain her control over most of the Persian Gulf.

British-led troops placed a friendly sheikh and sultan in control of isolated Buraimi and Oman with desert raids reminiscent of the old days of imperial rule. The action so infuriated the Saudi Arabs that King Saud refused to accept the credentials of a new British ambassador, Ronald Parks.

BRITISH POLICY backfired into bloody riots when Britain tried to pressure the kingdom of Jordan into the Northern Tier-Baghdad Pact.

U. S. diplomats in Arab capitals assert Britain in building up anti-Western hate at a time when communism is making big gains through Russia's support of the Arabs against Israel.

Britain is the chief U. S. ally in strengthening defense against communism. Yet many American diplomats and businessmen in the Middle East are convinced Britain is harming the West's long-range aims by attempting to stem the rising tide of Arab nationalism through the cold system of controlling local rulers.

THE BRITISH resent American criticism. The Persian Gulf area, together with British interests in Iraqi-Iranian oil fields, is a substantial source of sterling area weath. There apparently are bright prospects of more oil in British-controlled sheikhdoms, stretching along the Persian Gulf and the shores of the Indian Ocean on Arabia's south coast.

"There is just as much emotion on the British side as there is among Arabs—maybe more," one American businessman commented. "They have pulled out of India, out of Egypt and the Sudan, lost exclusive oil rights in Iran and are having trouble in Cyprus. There is real feeling among oldtimers out here that the Persian Gulf is the empire's last stand."

ONE HEARS comments from Britains something like this:

"If you Americans had not backed the Egyptians in getting Britain to evacuate troops from the Suez Canal zone, Nasser (the Egyptian premier) would not have dared to get his Soviet arms. There would not be a Palestine crisis now."

Under the terms of the canal zone agreement, the last British soldier will be out of the canal zone by June. It is probable the presence of British troops in the zone has acted as a deterrent to large-scale attacks by Israelis or Egyptians.

Boy Scout News

Cub Pack 5 appeared on the local television station Jan. 16 and 23. This was another of their special events for this year.

The cubs also have been busy taking part in gym classes that are held at the George Washington School every Thursday night under the direction of the Jewish Community Center.

The pack meeting this month will be held Sunday, Jan. 29 at 3 p. m. at the Jewish Community Center. Parents are asked to attend.

Why We Say--

ARMY DOCTORS: This expression was started during World War II by Army doctors. They stated that an aching back, since it could not be seen, was being used as the chief excuse for not reporting to work. Thus, "Oh, My Aching Back" became a popular joke with GI's.

I attend service when it rains—

Because the Fourth Commandment does not exempt the rainy Lord's Day.

Because I insist upon the minister's being there, whose contract is no more binding than mine.

Because I may miss exactly the sermon or prayer I need.

Because my presence helps more on rainy days than on bright days.

Because the rain did not keep me from the tea last Monday, nor the dinner last Wednesday, nor the ball game last Saturday, nor the store any day in the week.

Because an example which cannot stand a little wetting is of little worth.

Because the man who fears the rain will soon fear the cloud, and he who fears the day will soon fear the daylight itself as reason for neglecting the church.

Because my real excuse must be to the Lord and not to man.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Clem Nessle Back From Costa Rica

Woodstock, aJn. 26—The language of music has always been one of the best methods of spreading good-will between nations, and Woodstock's Clementine Nessel has always been generous in giving her share wherever she may be. Last month she returned to her Woodstock home after dispensing melody and her own brand of joyful good will to the Central American country of Costa Rica.

Clem left with her accordion early last November for the colorful Spanish-speaking country and returned in December with a wide assortment of Costa Rican craftwork and objects d'art. Her beautiful home on the Woodstock-Saugerties road, which was built almost entirely by her husband, Vere Nessel, has been enhanced with Costa Rican pottery, sculpture and other examples of their fine crafts. Among the notable pieces are a fine pair of Franciscan monks carved in coffeewood which serve as bookends, a finely wrought salad bowl of christobalwood, two handsome ebony figures, quite modern in design of Negroes.

"It's interesting," Clem remarked that they should choose Negroes for their subjects as there are no Negroes in Costa Rica."

IN PLACES of honor on the Nessel's long bluestone mantle above the fireplace are two rare pottery tomb pieces, bowl shaped on three little legs each—the three legs being characteristic of Costa Rican bowls and vases—which probably were incense burners. Although there are also no Indians living in Costa Rica now, she said, occasionally an ancient Indian tomb is found and buried with them are pieces of pottery, jewelry, and big and little ocarinas. She had one of the tiny ocarinas in her collection, which she played with its little piping notes. There was also a primitive carved stone figure of an Indian. From the penal colony of St. Lucas Island in the Pacific where she went to play for the prisoners, she purchased a fine round wooden box inlaid with tortoise shell and mother of pearl, made by a prisoner.

Largely in evidence too, were fine examples of leatherwork, small bags, shoulder bags, and leather combined with cowhide or leopard skin in striking overnight bags and small pieces.

"I've always wanted a hammock to hang up among my trees out back," she observed displaying a brightly woven hemp hammock with thick loops decorated with tassles. One of the most interesting wood pieces was a box decorated with a fan design using strips of the woods native to the country, among them the beautiful purple nazarine wood and cocabola wood marked with black streaks.

Clem went to Costa Rica as the guest of Margarita Guardia, the daughter of Chief Justice of Costa Rica, Victor Guardia. Miss Guardia had been the guest of Clem's in Woodstock last summer. During her visit Clem was royally entertained by many dignataries of the country. She played a concert on St. Cecelia's Day—St. Cecelia being the patron saint of music—and also played for the Secretary of State, Alberto Monge at his country home when he entertained the presidential staff. He gave a party in her honor.

Margarita's cousin Carlos Manuel Rojas, who owns vast sugar plantations in Costa Rica, invited them to the big party he gives each year for the Rotary club of which he is a member. The party takes the form of a barbeque, Argentine style, and is an impressive sight, Clem said. A huge pit is dug and surrounded by a high iron rack. On top of each of the four sides the attendants lay the tenderloin pieces of beef and to the sides of the rack the big slabs of beef are hung. Over all is poured the tasty barbecue sauce and it is then roasted over the low charcoal sauce.

"HE HAS a magnificent home," Clem reported, "with great beams carved of fine wood. It is a modern home but with a warm Spanish influence, and the recreation room is enormous and equipped with everything imaginable including a fine record collection."

There was also a Costa Rican orchestra playing for the party and Clem alternated with solos and numbers with the orchestra. They invited her to broadcast from the radio station at San Jose, the capitol. In passing she remarked that they have no television there.

Clem and Margarita were also entertained by Gustavo Rey Alvaraz, the ambassador from Uruguay several times. She was invited to the reception planned in January for the president of Uruguay, but was unable to stay for it.

Marches for Polio

Union City, Tenn., Jan. 26 (AP)—An army sergeant starts marching across Tennessee today, hoping for a dime to match every step of the way. Maybe not a dime a step, since it's 130 miles, but Sgt. James E. Wiggins will stop in 16 towns en route to Memphis to ask for contributions to the March of Dimes to fight crippling polio.

Execution Date Fixed

Kansas City, Jan. 26 (AP)—Ex-convict Arthur Ross Brown will be executed in the Missouri gas chamber Feb. 24 for kidnapping Mrs. Wilma Allen. By his own admission he robbed, raped and murdered the pretty, 34-year-old housewife last Aug. 4 as she pleaded tearfully to return to her wealthy husband and their two young sons. U. S. District Judge Charles E. Whitaker fixed the execution date yesterday after death was recommended by a jury. Brown had pleaded guilty to a federal kidnaping charge. A state charge of murder is pending neighboring Kansas, but it's a moot case now.

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand illustrates a point that we have often discussed in this column. When you can afford it, be pessimistic about the way your suits are going to break.

When today's hand was played, West opened the king of diamonds and continued with a diamond to East's ace. East returned the jack of hearts, and declarer won with the ace.

An optimistic declarer would now lay down the three top trumps, after which the hand would go up in smoke. South would have to try to run his clubs, but East would ruff the third club and go back to diamonds. South would ruff with his last trump and would succeed in making only eight tricks.

South makes his contract by assuming that the trumps will break 4-2 rather than 3-3. In this case, a trump trick must be lost. The important thing is that South must lose this trump trick while he still has control of the diamonds.

Upon winning the ace of hearts, South should immediately lead his low trump. Dummy's remaining trumps still control the diamonds, and South can regain the lead to draw the rest of the trumps. Then he can run the clubs safely, fulfilling his contract.

Rolling Adjustments Are Due In Business, President Says

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower indicates that business may be in for another of its "rolling adjustments." This phrase means that while some industries have spurted to the summit and are now rolling back for a breather, others will continue to roll forward to new peaks.

Many businessmen are out this week with predictions that their firms are still in the rolling forward stage. And others are saying that if they are due for a rolling adjustment backward that time is still some months away.

STEEL MILLS have been setting new records for output so far this month, apparently unaffected by the cutback in auto production.

Republic steel predicts it will continue on a capacity production schedule for at least six months more. Pittsburgh Steel says its capacity schedule should continue for at least nine months. Many in the industry expect Bethlehem Steel to make a similar cheerful prediction late today.

Copper fabricators note a pickup in new orders recently, after a lull. Demand has returned to the high level of last September and October.

The National Machine Tool Builders Assn., reports in Cleveland that shipments of its members are expected to rise for the next few months. It says they now have unfilled orders which assure 7½ months of production at current schedules. This is the highest backlog in two years.

FOR THE utilities the outlook, both short-term and long-term, still is very bright. Industrial activity through the cold months seems sure to be high enough to boost electric power consumption. And use of electricity is expected by homeowners this summer.

Business prospects look so good to the Commonwealth Edison Co. of Chicago that it has just raised its sights on what it'll need in the future. It now plans to spend 120 million dollars more in 1956 for expansion than it announced only a short time ago. This would bring the year's total to 600 million.

CREDIT DEMANDS are holding high, and showing no signs of abating. So the nation's banks, except perhaps in the farming areas, look for higher earnings, at least in the first half of the year.

This nation's trade with the rest of the world is also expected to rise to new record levels this year. The balance of payments group of the National Foreign Trade Council predicts that American companies will raise their exports of merchandise by 600 million dollars this year to a new record of $14,700,000,000. At the same time, the nation's importers are expected to bring in 400 million dollars more for a new record total of $11,900,000,000.

TWO OF THE rolling adjustments the President mentioned are the slowdown in auto sales and home building.

Some builders have predicted as much as a 10 per cent drop in new home starts. But Washington looks for a mild dip. And mortgage finance executives assure the Chicago meeting of the National Assn. of Home Builders that there will be plenty of mortgage credit avaliable.

In the auto industry cutbacks of 12 to 15 per cent have been forecast. But the head of one of the smaller companies—James J. Nance, president of Studebaker-Packard Corp.—says auto output still could equal 1955's record. And General Motors has just closed its motorama here after selling $1,300,000 worth of cars, a gain of $100,000 over lost year. Attendance of 275,316 was 60,000 higher than a year ago.

If there's to be a rolling adjustment, it may not be too painful.

Corn Bread and Wild Rice Stuff Rock Cornish Hens

MOUTH-WATERING is the word for these Rock Cornish hens. Serve them with a corn bread and wild rice dressing.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Mrs. Claude H. Allen, wife of a Minnesota state representative in St. Paul, suggests Rock Cornish Hens for a special treat.

"These birds have a delicate flavor more pronounced than chicken, yet not quite so strong as game. Serve them with a corn bread and wild rice dressing that will make these plump tender birds, just a bit plumper, a bit juicier and even more delicious," she advises.

"Remember in stuffing, not to pack too tightly. All stuffing swells in the baking, and in order for it to remain moist and fluffy, it must be put in with a light touch."

"Make the corn bread for the dressing a day in advance. Serve it for lunch the day before, but leave enough for the next day's dinner.

Stuffed Cornish Hens
(For 8 Cornish hens and a 1-quart casserole)

STUFFING: Four cups corn bread, crumbled, 1 cup butter or margarine, melted, 1 cup chopped celery, 4 cups cooked wild rice, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 8 Rock Cornish hens.

Mix together all ingredients for stuffing. Stuff lightly into neck region and body cavity of Cornish hens, using about ½ cup stuffing for each hen. Bake remaining stuffing in a casserole. Brush stuffed hens with melted butter in which is sprinkled a bit of paprika. Roast in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 1½ hours, basting once or twice with melted butter. Bake casserole of stuffing in oven during last 30 minutes.

Corn Bread

One cup enriched corn meal, 1 cup sifted enriched flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, ¼ cup shortening, soft.

Sift together dry ingredients into bowl. Add egg, milk and shortening. Beat with rotary beater until smooth, about 1 minute. Do not overbeat. Bake in greased 8-inch square pan in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Rock Cornish hens with corn bread and wild rice stuffing, buttered Zucchini, buttered carrots, soft rolls, butter or margarine, lettuce, watercress and tomato salad, ice cream with hot chocolate sauce, coffee, tea, milk.

Ike Proposes $126 Million 5-Point Program in Attack On Cancer, Other Diseases

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today to vote $126,525,000 for basic research to penetrate the "dark mystery" of cancer and to combat other leading killers.

The request was made in a five-point program laid before the legislators in a special message calling for "a renewed and reinvigorated attack on our health problems."

Eisenhower told the lawmakers:

"THE NATION in recent years has made notable advances in the unending struggle against disease and disability. Human suffering has been relieved, the span of man's years has been extended. But in the light of the human and economic toll still taken by disease, in the light of the great opportunities open before us, the nation still has not summoned the resources it properly and usefully could summon to the cause of better health."

Eisenhower did not renew his request of last year for federal reinsurance of health insurance — a proposal which ran into opposition from the American Medical Association (AMA), on grounds it might be an opening wedge to socialized medicine, and got nowhere in Congress.

Instead, Eisenhower said the administration is considering legislation to permit pooling of risks by private companies.

HE SAID THIS might offer "broader benefits and expanded coverage on reasonable terms in fields of special needs."

"But," he added, "if practical and useful methods cannot be developed along these lines, then I will again urge the enactment of the proposal made last year."

EISENHOWER called for action in five general areas, providing for:

1. A 28 per cent increase in federal funds for basic medical research to a total of $126,525,000.

2. A new program of grants—250 million dollars over the next five years—for construction of medical research and training facilities.

This money would go to state, local and private institutions with a provision that they must supply "at least equal amounts in matching funds."

3. Further steps to meet health personnel shortages. No specific amount was recommended here, but Eisenhower said the number of physicians being graduated from medical schools is barely keeping pace with the increase in population, and that the number of dentists and nurses is diminishing relative to population.

4. Action to strengthen certain other basic health services throughout the nation.

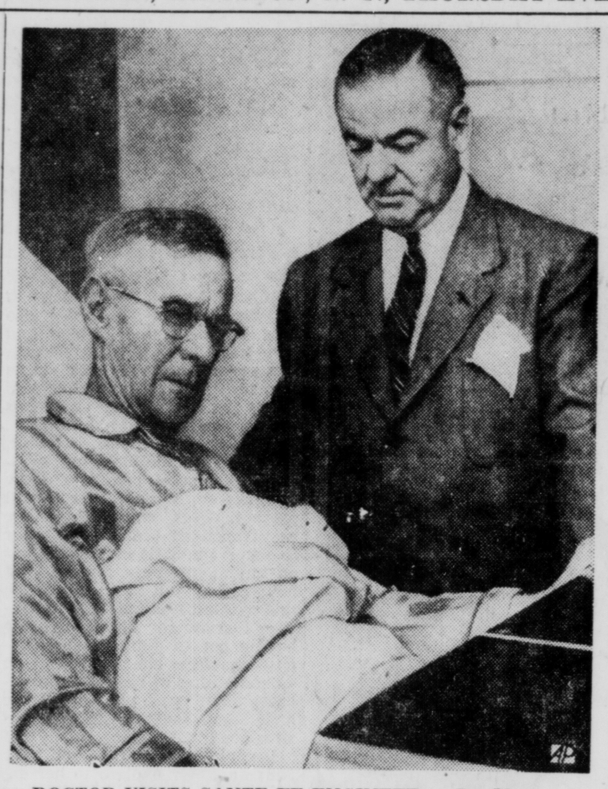

HIS FIFTH POINT was that of meeting costs of medical care and embraced his plan possibly to submit later legislation for pooling of insurance risks.

Under this item, the President also recommended that Congress authorize a separate program through which the federal government would match funds expended by the states and localities for medical care for the indigent aged, the blind, the permanently and totally disabled, and dependent children.

Scully Held for Jury, Two Speeders Fined

John Scully, Jr., 16, of 77 West Pierpont street, who was arrested Tuesday on a third degree burglary charge, was held for the grand jury after waiving examination in city court and City Judge Raymond J. Mino fined two drivers $20 each on speeding charges.

Police claim solution of local burglaries in which small amounts of money were taken, with the arrest of Scully, who was picked up in a lunch room after report of a burglary at a Broadway store Tuesday.

The drivers held for speeding were Robert Lewis Swart, 27, R.D. 2, Box 280, Saugerties, who was arrested at 12:20 a. m., on Flatbush avenue, and Walter Joseph Olkowski, 24, P.O. Box 7, Malden-on-Hudson, who was arrested at 1:40 a. m., on East Chester street.

New Disarmament Plan Suggested To Detect Arms

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today the administration should develop a new disarmament plan in the light of knowledge there is no way to detect "hidden stockpiles" of nuclear weapons.

Humphrey, chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on disarmament, said he does not believe "the difficulties are insurmountable."

But, he added in an interview, it must be "a comprehensive plan for armaments reduction" that takes into account "all the possibilities of the picture today."

President Eisenhower's special assistant for disarmament, Harold E. Stassen, told Humphrey's subcommittee yesterday that buried stockpiles of hydrogen or atomic bombs cannot be detected now from a distance of 100 yards.

Stassen expressed hope that the "force of world opinion" eventually will persuade Russia to go along with Eisenhower's plan for aerial inspections and exchange of military blueprints as the first of a series of steps which ultimately could lead to outlawing nuclear weapons.

While this plan would not result in detecting hidden stockpiles, he said, it would cover transportation of weapons and guard both the United States and Soviet Russia "against that great surprise attack which could herald the holocaust."

Stassen said task forces of scientists are working to find devices to detect concealed nuclear weapons.

Downtown . . .

tial, is the correct one."

Speakers at last night's meeting expressed fear that more blocks of buildings would be demolished in the downtown section, solely as a means of gaining a "clearance" area for developments such as one proposed for the Kingman Park area.

The downtowners will insist, they indicated, that areas demolished, should be reconstructed prior to approval of new building in other areas.

Several in the group of more than 60 at the meeting, expressed fear of possible use of cleared areas downtown for parking lots or park areas without benefit of new building.

Some felt also that emphasis for downtown redevelopment was toward the use of private capital in preference to use of public housing funds.

A combined development of commercial and dwelling units would be acceptable to the area, it was indicated.

The group decided to employ counsel for study and advice during its campaign for redevelopment of the downtown sector.

Speakers emphasized that the downtown area has all public utilities such as water service and sewers along with school and church facilities, whereas these must be added to developments elsewhere in the city.

Aldermen William S. Keyser, second ward, and Frank C. Sass, seventh ward, who had inspected an urban renewal plan in Schenectady with Mayor Frederick H. Stang and others recently, indicated they had gained important information on the tour, but that the project there was generally one of commercial reconstruction.

Other aldermen present were George P. Norton, Jr., sixth ward, and Hirschell Mayes, first ward. Also attending were former sixth ward Alderman Joseph Epstein, Thomas Coughlin, former seventh ward alderman, and Peter Simpson, formerly of the sixth.

Among the group at the meeting were residents of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth wards.

Directors named for the Downtown Businessmen's Association were: James Keith, Hyman Greenspan, Alfred K. Steeger, Warren W. Simmons, Isadore Handler, Aloysius Bailey, Archie Adin and Louis Alcon.

An Overgenerous Young Girl

A reader writes me as follows: A young girl from out of town whose aunt I have known since childhood, is going to college in this city. My own daughter also goes to this same college and they have become good friends. The girl in question lives at the sorority house. I invited her to have Sunday dinner with us whenever she would like to come. Every time she comes, however, she brings something for me—either a box of candy or some flowers or some other small present. This embarrasses me very much as I don't want her to spend the little money she has on buying presents for me. But how can I tell her not to do this without seeming unappreciative. I know she appreciates my having her to dinner and I suppose she feels she would like to do something to repay my hospitality. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully handle this situation?"

I would suggest that you have your daughter explain to her exactly how you feel. I am sure this will straigthen out the situation.

Does Fraternity Pin Mean An Engagement

Dear Mrs. Post: Does the giving of a fraternity pin constitute an engagement? A friend and I were discussing this and I said that it meant a girl "was engaged to become engaged." In other words, a boy going to college can't afford to buy a ring and therefore gives her his pin until he can buy her a ring. My friend said that it merely means a best girl friend and did not necessarily mean an engagement. I would appreciate your opinion on this matter.

Answer: I agree with your friend.

If One Must Interrupt

Dear Mrs. Post: If it is necessary to interrupt when persons are talking, what is the most polite way to do it?

Answer: Say, "I'm sorry to interupt," or "Excuse me, please, but Mrs. Brown is on the telephone," or "Mr. Jones is waiting to see you," or whatever it is that makes it necessary for you to interrupt.

Letter Appears Hoax

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 26 (AP)—A letter signed with the name of escaped killer Leslie Irvin and mailed in Brooklyn appeared today to be a hoax. Two Evansvilie philologists who studied the letter, written on a brown paper sack, said it was written by a crank. Experts on words and grammar, they said the sentence structure and grammar of the letter differed sharply from the composition of one written by Irvin to his lawyer last week. The latest letter was received Tuesday by Mrs. Ruth Patton, a St. Louis waitress who told police she saw Irvin in a coffee shop in that city last Thursday night. She had known Irvin previously in Louisville.

Plunges to Death

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—A business executive plunged to his death last night from the 32nd floor of a downtown Manhattan office building after sending a mysterious telegram, police said. The man, whose body was found in Cedar street in the financial district, was tentatively identified as Phillip Brooks, about 62, vice president of the Credit-America Corp. The company has offices on the 32nd floor of the Equitable Life building. Authorities said identification was made from a driver's license and a Social Security card in the man's pockets.

Expert Mocker

Columbus, Ohio (AP) — The mockingbird imitates other birds so well that only electronic analysis can tell the difference, say two ornithologists at Ohio State University. And the mockingbird mimics an individual bird, not just the general pattern of another species' song, study indicates. The investigators, Profs. Donald J. Borror and Carl R. Reese, use an audiospectrograph to measure the rhythm, loudness and pitch of tape-recorded birds songs. Analyzing a mockingbird imitating a Carolina Wren, they found one pattern was virtually identical to that of a wren recorded nearby 10 days earlier.

$100,000 Quebec Fire

Trois Rivieres, Que., Jan. 26 (AP)—Fire raged out of control for six hours today in the center of Ste. Angele de Laval, destroying two hotels, four homes and a store. No one was injured, but 35 persons were left homeless. Ste. Angele, a town of about 1,200, is on the shore of the St. Lawrence river opposite Trois Rivieres. It is about 90 miles east of Montreal. The fire was declared under control at 8 a. m. The first unofficial estimate listed damage at $100,000.

The new status for Archbishop Roy and the raising of the Metropolitan See of Quebec to Primatial See of Canada were announced today by Most Rev. Giovanni Panico, apostolic delegate to Canada, at a meeting of the administrative board of the Canadian Catholic Conference.

Newburgh Gets

the plan can be integrated into an overall Newburgh area plan, so that not only local traffic needs, but also the traffic needs of the entire Newburgh area can be met beyond a 20-year forecast period.

IN OFFERING the plan to local officials for their consideration, Johnson emphasized that even mutual agreement and legislative authorization would not bring the plan to the construction stage unless sufficient funds were available. An adequate substitute for the recently-defeated highway bond amendment must be found, he said, before the state can properly meet arterial construction needs in cities throughout the state.

The estimated cost of 3.6 miles of recommended improvements within the city limits is $2,800,000 for construction and $670,000 for rights of way. The estimated cost of 5.2 miles of proposed state highway connections outside the city limits is $5,320,000 for construction and $1,063,000 for rights of way. All construction costs would be met by federal and state funds. The only cost to the City of Newburgh would be one-half the cost of the required right of way within the city limits, $335,000. The state would pay the other half.

THE STATE'S PLAN, prepared in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, was outlined at 2 p. m. today in the council chamber of the municipal building in Newburgh when representatives of Superintendent Johnson formally presented the plan to William D. Ryan, mayor of the city of Newburgh, and Allan J. Zabriskie, chairman of the Orange county board of supervisors.

Describing specific features of the plan and procedures to be followed in the realization of the proposal, were Henry Ten Hagen, deputy chief engineer in charge of state highway planning and urban arterial development, James S. Bixby, district engineer in charge of the state public works department's Poughkeepsie office, and other staff assistants.

Freeing of IBM

tic if we did not recognize that some of the terms of the judgment are severe. In other respects, terms of the judgment conform to long-standing company policies and impose no major change.

"THOUGH THE JUDGMENT is complex and conformity to it by our company will require a great deal of administrative and procedural efforts, the terms do not enjoin us from continuing to furnish good products and good service to our customers.

"These are the foundations upon which our business has been built and upon which it will continue to grow in an atmosphere of ever-increasing demand and ever-increasing competition."

In addition to the patent freeing, the IBM decree also requires that company to offer for sale its tabulating machines, now restricted to rental use, and to continue to service machines so sold.

THE COMPANY agreed also to sell its unique high-speed card making presses to competitors, and must get rid of some of its card-making facilities in 1963 if the New York court finds it still holds too great a share of that business.

The original monopoly action against IBM, filed in 1952, asserted the company then had 90 per cent of the tabulating machine business in the United States.

Barnes said the decree "should provide an incentive for other manufacturers to enter this industry."

In the still-pending RCA case, the government seeks release of that company's 10,000 radio and television patents to all comers. The suit also seeks to enjoin an alleged RCA practice of "package-licensing" its patents under which the government contends the licensee is required to pay royalties on patents for which he has no use.

Troopers said the two cars were negotiating a sweeping curve at the time of the collision. From a study of debris, the absence of skid marks, etc., it was determined that impact was at the half-way point of the curve, according to the troopers.

They said it was impossible to determine in what lane section the collision occurred. Both cars were demolished.

IBM Stock Dips

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The common stock of International Business Machines lost $13 a share today when it opened at $385 on the New York Stock Exchange. The loss later widened to $25 a share. During 1955-56, the stock hit a high price of $450 and a low of $349.

Part of the Act?

Houston, Tex. (AP) — A piano concerto had just been completed and the 3,000 spectators watched with interest as two stagehands came out to move the piano. One started to shove it—and the left front leg came off in his hand. There was a nervous spasm of giggles as he struggled to support his corner of the piano. The giggles erupted into a roar as a third man ran on stage to help the two. The sell-out crowd may have noticed Symphony Director Leopold Stokowski turn a fraction on the podium to see what was up. But only the three stagehands heard his smiling crack: "Comedians!"

New Paltz Adult Class to Broaden Subject Scope

The world affairs class of the adult education program at New Paltz High School will broaden its scope by discussing national and local topics from time to time.

Dr. Charles E. Huntington, who has taken over this class has announced that they will cooperate with a plan suggested by the State Bureau of Adult Education in discussing the various bills that are to be brought up in the state legislature and then reporting the results of these discussions to the local legislators.

He has announced that the topic for discussion Wednesday evening was "Juvenile Delinquency." On Feb. 1 the United States foreign policy will be discussed.

This is a very lively discussion group and anyone interested is urged to join. The group meets each Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the high school library.

Mrs. Irma DeWitt, who instructs the class in photography announces that at the meeting on Monday, Jan. 30 the topic will be "Composition." This is a lecture prepared with 150 slides to illustrate tthe good and bad points of composition in an effort to explain what to look for in your pictures.

The slides will include "Geometrical Forms Found in Pictures," "Lines Have a Meaning," "The Moods of Nature," "Placement of Dominant Objects," "Expression, Imagination and Interest Found in Pictures," and "Things to Do and Not to Do."

This meeting may prove of interest to art students as well as to photographers. Anyone interested is welcome to attend as it will be an open lecture. The group meets at 7 p. m. in Room 2 of the high school.

This Is Justice

Sacramento (AP)—A prominent Californian took his seat on the Los Angeles-San Francisco airliner. His seatmate, a neighborly woman, struck up a conversation without introduction. As the plane approached San Francisco, she asked if she could introduce her grandchildren to him at the airport. Of course, he said. "But I just don't know how to introduce you," the woman said. "Should it be Gov. Knight or Chief Justice Knight?"

"Neither," the big, white-haired man replied. "Earl Warren."

Street Cars Disappear

Detroit (AP)—The city's 183 remaining street cars have been sold to Mexico City. The sale included 150 at $4,000 each and 33 at $3,000 each. Buses already have replaced streetcars on all but two of Detroit's streets and they will be converted to buses soon.

CLOWNING AROUND WITH POLITICS—Shying away from an "Adlai or Bust" button are Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall and Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams, right. The clowning took place at a Circus Saints and Sinners luncheon in Washington, D.C. The Circus Saints and Sinners is a fun-making charitable organization which includes among its membership congressmen and high government officials. Clowns are members J. Halsey Thomas, left, and James Rawls.

Select 3 Area School Papers For Judging

Three Ulster county school publications entered in the 19th annual School Press Project have been submitted for state level judging where nine publications will be chosen for national consideration.

Publications have not been given numerical order because the judges found it difficult to choose only three because of the excellent material in all entries.

THE THREE PAPERS forwarded to the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health from Ulster county are The Flying H News, published in Highland Central School, Highland; The Cherry Tree, entered by the George Washington Elementary School of Kingston and The Quill, the Ellenville Central School publication.

The judges who served in Ulster county were Dr. John R. Roberts, of Kingston, a physician and a member of the board of directors of the Ulster County TB and Health Association; Ralph J. LeFevre of New Paltz, a former teacher and associate editor of the New Paltz Independent, Edmund R. Bower of Hurley, Ulster county 4-H Club agent.

The school press project is cosponsored by the National Tuberculosis and Health Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

It is a press project for school publication. Material considered by the judges consisted of news and feature stories, editorials, cartoons, and other art work. Student staff members working as a group develop the material in their own style. In participating in this project, individually they have learned the importance of tuberculosis control and as a group have had experience in the community service carried on by many news publications.

MONKEY SEE!! MONKEY DO!!

Mrs. Butler and myself are continuously amused with the complete lack of originality displayed in the "Monkey-See—Monkey Do" type of advertising repeatedly followed by a particular few stores in this area! Are they frightened of using ideas of their own? Are they pursuing the policy of saying nothing, or at least, nothing original? Believing this neutral pattern will prevent their committing, not purposefully, the grevious error of telling you, the public, and their prospective customers, THE TRUTH.

I have been in the Furniture business from the age of 15 years, and my father followed it before me. My son and Mrs. Butler are now working in the business with me. I have made Fine Furniture with my own hands and can still do so! I firmly believe the knowledge I have gained in years of careful, actual construction in Fine Furniture has greatly benefited our customers — that this knowledge and our much Lower Overhead, has permitted us to give everyone better quality construction, more intelligent practical styling, and at money-back Guaranteed Lower Prices.

We have never pursued the "red herring" policy in our advertising, nor have we followed the same shallow method when shoppers browse in our large showrooms. We honestly want you to shop other stores for their spectacular, stupendous bargains. All we ask is, before you do make a decision, come up to our place on Route 28-A in West Hurley and make a careful comparison in Value, Construction, Nationally-known Lines, and in Price — then if you do make your purchase here, (and we do feel quite sure you will), you too will become another booster for Butler. Careful buyers, intelligent people, folks who won't be misled by double talk and insinuations, are the customers who have made our Wayside Furniture Store the Largest of its kind in Ulster County! They compared — then they bought here — and told their friends of the Better Buys at Butler's. In this way we grow, because our belief in the common sense of the average person has proven itself. People are not "suckers" all the time! Any merchant that continues to think so will eventually note his error in the volume of his sales! Admittedly, we do want your business, and when you become one of our customers, we want you to be satisfied. If at any time, you do not feel that you are satisfied, pick up your telephone and call Kingston 5376. We appreciate your confidence and will certainly make every effort to "make right" any sale made.

Some store owners seem to classify the minds of you, the public, on an equal plane with that of a fish! It assuredly seems so — because of the various "baits" used. Probably they vary the "baits" for different varieties of "fish," but it's all bait just the same. For instance: "Buy it wholesale here" — "You buy this and we'll give you this" — "Just walk in the door and we'll give you this beautiful so and so" — "Tear out this coupon and you're entitled to—." As the saying goes: "No matter how you slice it—it's still baloney!" Common sense should tell anyone that a man in business has to show a profit. If he doesn't, he goes into bankruptcy. It isn't likely he will intentionally do that. Therefore, he isn't giving you or anyone else, anything! He is selling you whatever you're buying at a price high enough to pay him for the cost of what it happens to be, plus a percentage over and above his actual cost that will give him his needed profit.

I wouldn't expect you to believe me, when advising of construction, materials, prices, or decorating — if I deliberately mislead you on the quantity or quality of furniture offered on display at our showrooms. Still: this childish method is continuously used in an attempt to lure you to other showrooms in hopes you will make your purchase there without further comparison.

Why not be fair to yourself and your pocketbook and shop at least three or four furniture stores — before you make your purchase? After all — furniture is not something that is bought for pennies. It's dollars, and many times many dollars! When it definitely is possible to save an average of $100 — on a bedroom suite; from $40 to $130 — on a living room suite; from $10 to $40 — on just a chair; from $60 to $125 — on a dining room suite; don't you think my advice is sound? It's plain "good business" to look and use natural judgment before you buy. It's money in your pocket if you do so! Naturally, if we were not certain we were giving you More Furniture, Better Furniture, for Less Money, I wouldn't encourage your comparing. Compare and do so intelligently — possibly you might have a friend along who understands the basic requirements in a good piece of furniture. Let him advise you before making your final selection — if you so desire.

If you do take my advice in shopping several stores before buying — bring your will power along with you, because it's to the financial advantage of every salesman or proprietor, to sell you then and there! But if the will power is strong enough, when it's all over I think you'll agree with me — when buying furniture it pays to shop, and shop wisely!

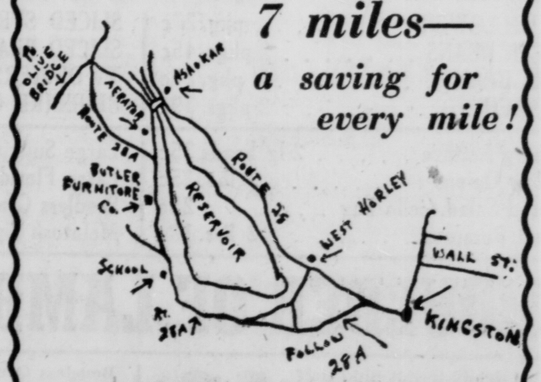

Come up to our place on Route 28A in West Hurley — any time. We're open seven days a week — Monday thru Saturday from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m., and Sundays from noon to 7 p. m.

Use our budget or lay-away, and free decorative assistance if you desire.

Reds Intensify Envoy Relations For Propoganda

BY TOM WHITNEY

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The Kremlin is in the midst of a broad expansion of its diplomatic activities.

Here are a few of the recent developments:

New heads of mission have been appointed by the Soviet government in 12 countries since Nov. 1.

The Soviet government quickly recognized the independence of the Sudan and offered to establish diplomatic relations with it.

A SOVIET delegation sent to Liberia to attend President William Tubman's inauguration concluded an agreement to establish diplomatic relations and exchange ambassadors. Prior to this the head of the Russian delegation had made an offere of economic aid for Liberia.

Suggested economic aid was available for Latin America and at the same time urged the usefulness of diplomatic relations between the Soviet Union and all Latin-American countries.

ONE OF THE highest Soviet diplomats, Valerian Zorin, arrived in West Germany to head a large diplomatic mission there.

Nikolai Generalov was sent to head the first Soviet mission in Libya.

These developments coincided with economic negotiations for sale of industrial equipment to India, the large Soviet loan to Afghanistan, the proposal of an oil refinery to Syria, and the last-minute compromise solution of the new member deadlock in the United Nations.

NEW HEADS of Soviet missions were appointed for Egypt, Syria, Lebanon and Pakistan—four Arab nations where the Soviet Union has diplomatic representation. With the overtures to the Sudan and Libya, this underlines again the intense interest in the Middle East. Apparently new moves are on foot and the Kremlin wants to have new men on the spot with full comprehension of the Soviet line in this area.

This seems to be the outlook:

There will be an increase in offers of economic aid and trade to a number of countries. With many of them the Soviet government will sign specific commitments.

POLITICAL propaganda through all channels will be intensified. The Kremlin will dwell especially on issues of colonialism, race discrimination, and particular conflicts of particular regions—the Arab-Israel problem in the Middle East, for instance.

The Soviet government will make numerous efforts to establish or renew diplomatic relations with additional countries — for example, Australia.

In the United Nations the Soviet representatives likely will make strong efforts to influence the new nations admitted in December.

All this adds up to a comprehensive Kremlin offensive.

There are more than 4,000,000 tractors in use on American farms today.

Cops in Shining Armor---

Detroit, Mich., policemen will soon become men in steel. Being fashioned for them are these bullet-proof aids to combating rioting crowds and barricaded gunmen. At left is an armor-plate coat weighing 65 pounds. It will come with strap-on armored leggings to protect the legs. A spotlight mounted atop the shield will aid in night gun battles. Portholes will be covered with bullet-proof glass. Arrow points to gun. Photo at right shows a modern "Roman chariot" that is really bullet-proof shield mounted on wheels. Policeman crouches behind it and fires through portholes. Both models shown here are mockups. The real things are scheduled to be in all precincts in the near future.

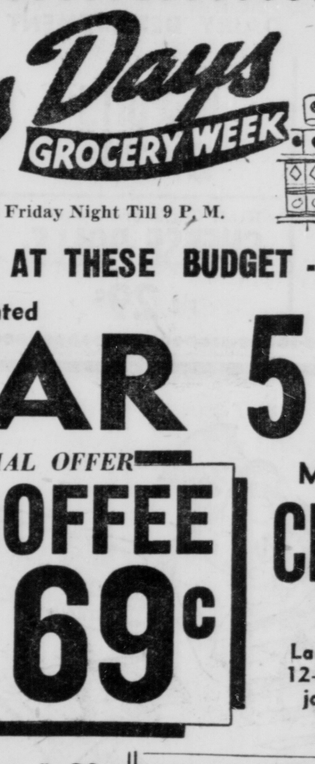

Murder Trial Resumes

Southport, N. C., Jan. 26 (AP)—The trial of Brunswick county auto dealer Redman E. Crisp, accused of second degree murder in the shooting of a New York youth, resumes here today. Crisp denied that he shot 17-year-old James Anthony Ferreri, shortly before the state rested its case yesterday. "No, no. I didn't shoot him. I didn't fire the shots," Crisp exclaimed from the witness stand. Bobby Hopper, 17, one of two youths hitch-hiking South with Ferreri, testified that the trio entered a car on Crisp's used car lot to sleep. He said two men approached, one carrying a flashlight and the other, who he identified as Crisp, started 'talking crazy" and had a gun.

Hearing on New College

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—Trustees of the State University of New York will hold a hearing here Feb. 10 on their plan to provide additional college facilities on Long Island. The proposals include establishment of a new college and graduate school stressing science and teacher training, conversion of the Agricultural and Technical Institute at Farmingdale into a community college, and establishment of two additional community colleges.

Roundup of Albany Bills

Albany, Jan. 26 (AP)—The Harriman administration today asked the Legislature to require medical examinations of motorists and to outlaw, three years hence, new automobiles lacking safety door latches.

The bills, introduced by Democratic lawmakers, were segments of Gov. Harriman's sweeping program to rid New York state highways of unsafe cars and unfit drivers.

THE FIRST MEASURE would empower the state motor vehicle commissioner to establish regulations for compulsory medical tests.

A spokesman for the Motor Vehicle Bureau said present plans called only for examining drivers who showed evidence of unfitness. A string of accidents or arrests would point the finger at the unfit, he said.

The second bill would bar from the roads after Jan. 1, 1959, any cars made after that date without approved safety doors. Traffic experts say many collision victims die because they are thrown out when car doors spring open.

Motorists suspected of being unfit would be examined by medical authorities at a driver research and testing center that Harriman recommended be set up.

THE MOTOR VEHICLE commissioner now may require an applicant to prove his fitness. But the commissioner cannot order an applicant to take an examination from other than his own doctor. The commissioner is powerless, also, to require a medical examination unless he has reasonable ground for believing that the applicant is unfit.

A third administration measure, introduced yesterday, would authorize the commissioner to require persons over 45 to pass an eye examination when renewing licenses.

A REPUBLICAN program bill was introduced to help rapidly growing communities by permitting use of special census figures as the basis for per capita state aid.

The legislation, sponsored by Sen. Daniel G. Albert of Rockville Centre and Assemblyman Lawrence M. Rulison of Syracuse, would allow counties and their subdivisions to contract with the census bureau for an interim population count.

The results, when certified, would be used for computing state per capita aid to localities.

THE ASSISTANCE now is apportioned according to the 1950 figures. Rulison and Albert said this penalized localities that have mushroomed since the census was taken.

The census would have to be taken as of April 1 in any year and certified to the state comptroller by Oct. 1 for use in figuring aid until the next decennial census. A special count, the census bureau estimates, would cost about 16 cents a person.

A BILL to help curb the traffic in stolen automobiles was sponsored by Sen. John H. Cooke of Alden and Assemblyman Julius Volker of Buffalo, Republicans.

The measure would provide for enactment, by New York, of the Uniform Motor Vehicle Certificate of Title and Anti-Theft Act.

The bill, Cooke and Volker said, is designed to "protect the unwary purchaser of a used automobile from the risk of buying a stolen car or one loaded with hidden liens."

THE BILL WOULD require the Motor Vehicle Bureau to maintain a register of cars by identification number, and to keep peace officers' and garage operators' reports of stolen and unclaimed vehicles. Wreckers, rebuilders and dealers in parts for used cars would be licensed.

Assemblyman Charles Eckstein, Queens Republican, offered a bill to shunt bus and truck exhaust fumes above the traffic lanes.

His measure, which would apply to buses and trucks with a load capacity of more than two tons, would require them to have an extension on exhaust pipes to carry fumes above the roof of the vehicle.

ASSEMBLYMAN Leo P. Noonan, Cattaragus county Republican, proposed establishment of a state training school for new prison guards. His bill also would authorize local correction departments to establish similar schools or send local officers to the state school.

Other bills would:

Authorize special learner's permits for 15-year-olds while taking instruction in school driving classes (Sen. George H. Pierce, R.-Olean).

AUTHORIZE use of state tuberculosis hospitals exclusively for care of aged or chronically ill (Sen. Thomas C. Desmond, R.-Newburgh).

Bar a non-resident motorist from state highways who forfeits bail on a traffic charge, until he submitted to court jurisdiction (Sen. William S. Hults, R.-Port Washington).

Exempt from highway use tax and vehicle used only to haul milk from a farm to a milk plant or collection point (Sen. Robert McEwen, R.-Ogdensburg).

Chipp Leaves Hospital

Arthur C. Chipp of the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home at Kerhonkson, has returned home from Kingston Hospital where he underwent surgery Jan. 13. He will resume his duties next week. Mr. Chipp is a former coroner of Ulster county and also served as Fire Co-ordinator of the County of Ulster until his recent resignation.

DO-IT-YOURSELF MOTOR SLED—This motorized sled is the pride of Joe Zagony and his nine-year-old son, Stevie. Zagony, of suburban Cleveland, Ohio, rigged up the contraption after two years of experimenting for "something that would be fun for Stevie and me in the winter." It's an eight-foot sled propelled by a motor-driven rear wheel. The sled will whiz along at 30 m.p.h. It's equipped with a hand brake, a steering wheel and seats. Motor has a one-quart gasoline tank. The rear wheel is cleated for traction. Zagony says the finished project cost him $200.

GI Home Loan Requests Drop During December

GI home loan applications dropped below the 50,000 mark during December for the first time in 17 months, F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, Veterans Administration Contact Office, 286 Fair street, announced today.

Mr. Sheehan said the 45,514 applications for guaranty received last month, was 9,660 less than the November total, a seasonal decline.

THE DECEMBER total was 13 per cent below December 1954 but 91 per cent above December 1953, 68 per cent above 1952 and 47 per cent above 1951.

Mr. Sheehan also reported that the Veterans Administration received appraisal applications for 43,457 proposed and existing homes during December, compared with 53,416 for the previous month. Of the December total, 24, 892 were for the proposed homes, compared with 23,019 for November.

Mr. Sheehan said the December decline in proposed homes is attributed to both seasonal factors and to the tightened market for GI home mortgages.

THE DROP in number of existing homes for which VA received appraisal requests was seasonal—about the same percentage decrease as recorded from November to December in previous years.

Following is a table showing VA's appraisal and home loan application activity since January 1954:

GWS Paper Again One of Best, Goes To State Judges

"The 'Cherry Tree,' student paper of the George Washington Elementary School, has been judged one of the three best in Ulster county and has been forwarded for state level judging," Ambrose J. Boyd, principal of the school, announced today. He pointed out that this is the second time within three years that the "Cherry Tree" has been singled out for special recognition.

In the winter of 1954, the paper was chosen as the best in Ulster county. Upon being forwarded to the state, it was judged one of the best in New York state and later awarded a certificate of honor as one of the best in the nation by the National Tuberculosis Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. The winning feature story of this issue was written by Susan Eymann, former George Washington student, presently attending the Myron J. Michael Junior High School. Miss Mary E. Polhemus, principal of School No. 3, was the staff advisor.

THE PRESENT editor and staff of the "Cherry Tree" were advised of the recent honor by Hazel M. Steed, program assistant of the Ulster county TB and Health Association in a letter to the group which reads: "Your school paper, "The Cherry Tree," has been judged one of the three best in Ulster county and has been forwarded for state level judging. Nine will be selected from the state for national judging.

"Your school may well be proud of your staff and the publication. We shall await judging decisions from the state and national levels, feeling entries from Ulster county may be given an award for the third consecutive year."

The others selected for state judging are "The Quill," Ellenville Central School, and "The Flying H News," Highland Central School.

Free Toll Bridge

Decatur, Neb. (AP)—For five years the Decatur Bridge was famous as a bridge without a river. Now that the Missouri river has been diverted under the span, it has acquired the new distinction of being a toll bridge which could be traveled free. The tolls were held off for the first few weeks of operation "so that the word will get around that we are in business," a bridge commission member explained.

National LL Honors Champion Miron Nine

Judge Bruhn Lauds Movement

"The only gang you want to belong to is your own baseball team," County Judge Louis G. Bruhn told 200 National Little League members, friends and families at last night's third annual banquet at the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The former baseball star of Union College and Kingston All Stars was principal speaker on the program which rounded out activities for the 1955 season.

COMMENTING on the difference between small fry baseball of his day and today's highly developed Little League program, the judge speculated that perhaps the youngsters of his time had to have "more ingenuity and individual initiative."

However, he lauded Little League baseball as a strong deterrent to juvenile delinquency and said that keeping small fry busy was the best way to keep them out of trouble.

Another speaker who stressed the role of LL and junior baseball in combatting juvenile delinquency was Sgt. Thomas W. Tomshaw of the Kingston police department.

"THERE IS SOME juvenile delinquency in Kingston but the problem is not serious," Tomshaw said. He spoke on the responsibilities of adults to keep youth baseball programs alive and solicited the cooperation of all persons in dealing with juvenile deliquency, youthful vandalism and other byproducts of idle minds and idle hands.

William R. Scully, retiring president of Little League Association, spoke briefly as did the new president, Harold Anderson.

Dick McCarthy was toastmaster and Charles J. Tiano, Freeman sports editor, awarded the prizes to the championship Miron Lumber Indians and individuals. The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, gave the invocation and benediction. Ralph Fuoco was accordianist for the national anthem.

Individual awards went to Warren Brown, batting, .634; Warren Brown, most home runs, 9; most pitching wins, 5, Bill Murphy; best pitching average, 5-0, Tom Fiore; most strikeouts, 45, Bill Murphy.

THE LEAGUE all-star team citations were awarded to Joseph Cavano, Peter Brennan, Thomas Fiore, William Boice, William Murphy, of the Miron Indians; Joseph Spada, Charles Blanschan, Joseph Clausi, Island Dock Tigers; William Huber, Hank Schatzel, Mike Loughran, Trailway Braves; Ralph Fuoco, Horace Walker, Frank Bonavita, Hiltebrant Pirates.

Giambra Spurt Trips Andrews

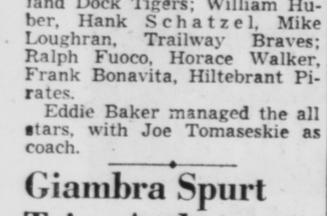

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 26 (AP)—Joey Giambra is nearer a crack at the world middleweight boxing championship after a fast finish last night gave him a unanimous 10-round decision over Al Andrews.

Giambra, from Buffalo, N. Y., swept the last three rounds on the cards of Referee Elder Craft, who voted 97-88 and Judges John Burton (96-94) and Charles Ford (96-95).

Giambra weighed 158 and Andrews of St. Paul, Minn., 161¾.

Mike Scanlan, Joey's manager, said afterwards Giambra was "ring rusty." It was Giambra's first fight since he lost a close decision to Bobo Olson last August. He was discharged from the army Dec. 9.

Campy Inks 42G Pact

Roy Campanella

Brooklyn, Jan. 26 (AP)—Roy Campanella, who two years ago feared his baseball career was over, now is the highest priced player in Brooklyn Dodger history.

The jovial catcher, whose comeback in 1955 perhaps was the biggest single factor in bringing Brooklyn its first world championship, signed a contract yesterday calling for an estimated $42,500. No other Brook player ever has cracked the 40-grand mark.

In mid-season 1954, Campy was almost convinced that season would be his last. A broken bone in his left hand, suffered during spring practice, left him without control of two fingers.

HE FINISHED the season with a pitiful .207 batting average, 19 home runs and 51 runs batted in.

Back in form last season, Campanella batted .318, hit 32 home runs, drove in 107 runs, and won the National League's most valuable award for the third time. Only Stan Musial in the National, and Jimmy Foxx, Joe DiMaggio and Yogi Berra in the American ever have been selected three times for the MVP award.

With hardly an outward memory of that dismal '54 season, Campy, at 34 and entering his ninth major league season, feels he "can go on catching 100 or more games for six more years and I'm not kidding, either."

Helfand Reserves Decision on TV

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The fate of the Monday night televised fights is in the hands of Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Helfand reserved decision yesterday after a two-day hearing on charges against matchmaker Tex Sullivan and the London Sporting Club on violations of commission rules. The penalty could be revocation of the club and matchmaking licenses.

WILLIE Gilzenberg, corporation treasurer, who had been charged, with Sullivan, of "consorting with persons convicted of crime, bookmakers, gamblers and persons of similar pursuits" surrendered his license in a surprise move Tuesday. Helfand, however, refused to accept the resignation.

Sullivan denied all charges during questioning by his counsel, Francis Adams, William Thomas, commission counsel, and Helfand.

After refusing several motions by Adams to dismiss all counts, Helfand said he was reserving decision, pending review of the testimony. His ruling is not expected for several days.

Leafs Tighten Grip on Fourth

The Toronto Maple Leafs held a firm grip on fourth place in the National Hockey League today.

Held scoreless for more than 45 minutes, the Leafs rallied last night to down the Chicago Black Hawks, 3-1 in the circuit's only game. The victory increased Toronto's fourth-place margin over Chicago to four points.

If the Hawks had won, they would have tied Toronto for the No. 4 spot, the last qualifying position for the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Greenberg, Cronin Named to Hall of Fame

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—Hank Greenberg, who in 1938 came within three of breaking Babe Ruth's 60 home run record, and Joe Cronin, the most expensive player in baseball, took their places alongside the game's immortals today following their election to the Hall of Fame.

The two slugging righthanded hitters earned membership to the shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y., yesterday when they received more than the necessary 75 per cent of the vote of the 10-year members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. They became the 80th and 81st Hall of Famers.

Greenberg was named on 164 of the 193 ballots cast to 152 for Cronin. A total of 145, three fourths of those cast, was needed. Only players active in the 1930-50 period were eligible for recognition and they could not have been active as a coach or manager within the last five years. The pair will be inducted formally at the Cooperstown museum next July.

BOTH STILL are very much active in baseball, in executive capacities. Greenberg, who quit as a player after the 1947 season, now is in his sixth year as general manager of the Cleveland Indians. He is 45.

Cronin, 49, has been general manager of the Boston Red Sox since 1948, two years after he retired as a player. In 1934 he was sold by Washington to Boston for a record price of $250,000 and immediately was named manager of the Red Sox.

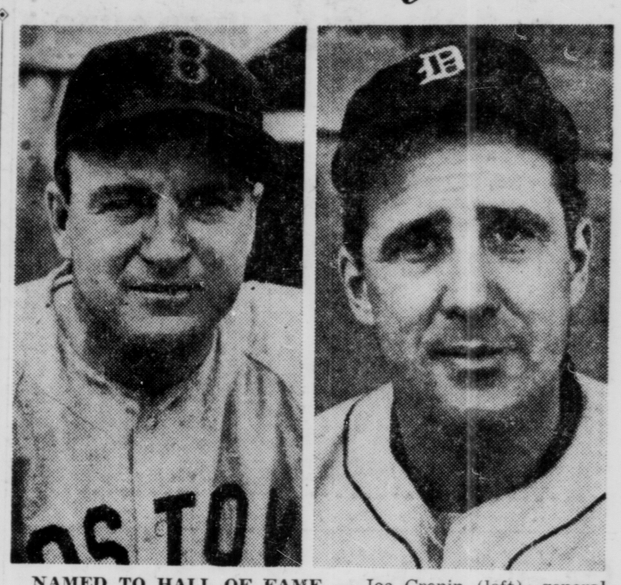

"It's the greatest thing that ever has happened to me," said Greenberg. Cronin called his election the greatest thrill of his life.

No one else came close to election. Charlie (Red) Ruffing, an outstanding pitcher with the New York Yankee pennant winners in the '30s and 40s, was third with 97 votes. Then came Ed Roush, former New York Giant and Cincinnati outfield star, with 91. Other top vote-getters were Lefty Gomez, 89; Hack Wilson 74; Tony Lazzeri 64, Kiki Cuyler 55, Hank Gowdy 49, Sam Rice 45, Chuck Klein 44, Jim Bottomley 42, Waite Hoyt 37, Red Faber 34 and Joe Medwick 31.

GREENBERG, who broke in with the Detroit Tigers in 1930 and became the regular first baseman in 1933, clouted 331 major league home runs to rank ninth among the all-time home run hitters. In 1938 he slammed 58 home runs to tie Jimmy Foxx' record for righthanded hitters. He had five games left, but failed to overhaul Ruth's mark of 60 homers in 1927.

Greenberg ended his active career with a total of 1,628 hits and 1,276 runs-batted-in for 1,394 big league games. He has a lifetime batting mark of .313.

Cronin, one of the greatest hitting shortstops of all time, starred at Washington from 1928 through 1934. He succeeded Walter Johnson as manager at the end of the 1932 season and led the Senators to a pennant in 1933. He was the regular Red Sox shortstop through 1945, winding up with a lifetime mark of .302. He had 2,285 hits in 2,124 games over a 20-year span, including 171 homers.

NAMED TO HALL OF FAME — Joe Cronin (left), general manager of the Boston Red Sox, and Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, have been elected to baseball's Hall of Fame. Cronin received 152 votes and Greenberg 164. A total of 145 votes is necessary for election. (NEA Telephotos).

Warriors Rip Nats, 112-100 To Hike Lead

(By The Associated Press)

The Philadelphia Warriors and the Fort Wayne Pistons each held commanding leads today in the National Basketball Assn. Eastern and Western divisions and the way they're going they're likely to stay on top.

The Warriors, led by Paul Arizin's 26 points, downed the Syracuse Nats 112-100 last night to gain a game on the second-place Boston Celtics in the Eastern Division. The Celtics were knocked off by Fort Wayne 101-100 and dropped 4½ games behind Philadelphia.

IN OTHER games, the Minneapolis Lakers defeated the New York Knickerbockers 104-95 and the St. Louis Hawks beat the Rochester Royals 114-106.

Minneapolis led all the way in thumping the Knicks. Six Lakers, led by Clyde Lovellette's 21 points, hit in double figures. George Mikan chipped in with 16 points for the winners while Kenny Sears was New York's leading scorer with 28. The triumph moved Minneapolis into a second place tie with Rochester in the Western Division.

The Old Slater Mill, built in 1793 at Pawtucket, R. I., is open to visitors.

Billy Short of Newburgh, former NFA strikeout artist, has been invited to report to the Yankees' specialized instruction training camp at St. Petersburgh, Fla., on Feb. 9.

Young Billy, who was born at Port Ewen, is the son of Alanson 'Al' Short, star backcourt performer of the crack Spinnys basketball squad of the early 1930s. The Shorts removed to Newburgh several years ago, after Billy had played Little League ball here.

In the Hilly City, Short was strikeout sensation in the PONY League and later at Newburgh Free Academy. Chief Scout Paul Krichell and Harry Hesse scouted Billy during the 1954 and 1955 seasons and signed him to a Yankee contract.

Short signed a Triple A contract with Denver of the American Association June 29, 1955, and reported to Bristol, Va., to finish the 1955 season. Billy was recalled by Denver for the 1956 season.

Another area youth, Mike Trowbridge of Hudson, has been brought up to the Milwaukee Braves from their Toledo farm club in the American Association.

A Margaretville pitcher, Jerry Lane, whose path crossed with that of Addison Jones early in his career, served a major hitch with the Cincinnati Reds and Washington Senators, was released last fall because of arm trouble.

Maury McDermott Jr. of Poughkeepsie, Short, Trowbridge, Lane . . . but not a Kingston name in the major leagues since Bud Culloton 30 years ago. For a while it looked like Clark Mains would make it, but a service hitch probably ruined his chances.

Despite our brilliant heritage in baseball, the city hasn't developed a major league player in more than three decades. It's something to ponder.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Julie Miron's son, Ken, has been named to the All-Queens scholastic soccer team for the third year in a row, according to a Bo Gill item. The Long Island Daily Press reported: "Ken Miron regarded as the finest soccer player ever developed at Kew-Forest School, occupies the four-star spot as the only three-time member of the All-Queens scholastic soccer team that makes its appearance today. Capable of playing any position expertly, the Kew-Forest senior is one of the three players from his school to be honored with all-scholastic recognition." Young Miron is planning to enter West Point where he hopes to play soccer and baseball. The lumber magnate's son is a catcher and solid hitter on the diamond. . . . Iona College, a Westchester powerhouse, reported next stop for George Carpouzis, the point-a-minute man of the YMCA basketball league. . . . Poughkeepsie YMCA stages its annual volleyball tournament Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Surprise Item: The NBA clubs don't even bother to scout Big Ten basketball teams. "Only Minnesota," say the pro coaches "and the Minneapolis Lakers seem to have a lock on what superior talent comes from there." The NBA pros come from anywhere but the Big Ten, with independent schools by far the more fertile source of supply.

Experience that money can't buy!

A man doesn't advance very far or very fast from experience alone . . . that experience must be coupled with professional development and recognition by superiors . . . and a man who is only "holding his own" while others are advancing is actually losing ground.

Professional development is dependent upon many factors:

A. Association with recognized technical leaders.
B. Recognition of individual contribution through merit review, publication of technical papers and technical society membership.
C. Participation in management decisions and planning.
D. The availability of a continuing formal educational program.
E. The guidance of a young, technically trained management.
F. A flexibility of operation where you can plan your use of time.
G. A major responsibility rather than a minor detailed job.

At Univac,® you will learn and grow with the men who evolved much of the basic knowledge of computers . . . who designed and produced components being used by other manufacturers in the field . . . who set the standards that the others follow . . . THIS is the opportunity and the experience that money can't buy. All of these positions offer a unique opportunity for advancement because of Univac's expansion . . . our present facilities are running to capacity . . . new plants and laboratories are under construction.

NOW is the time to come to Remington Rand Univac where ambition and professional skill find their reward . . . advancement comes quickest in an expanding organization.

FADING ART?—In this day of the mechanical milker, old-fashioned hand milking may become a lost art. Anyway, so thinks 94-year-old Lincoln Gwin, of Hagerstown, Ind. Here he's demonstrating the "do-it-yourself" technique for his two-year-old grandson Barry Locke, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Locke look on. Gwin, in recent semiretirement, expects to celebrate his 69th wedding anniversary Feb. 17.

DALLAS STREET SCENE—Snow is an unusual sight in Texas, but it's nothing compared to the sight of a man on skis in downtown Dallas. He's United Press photographer Shel Hershorn, who found the skis were the best method of transportation to get around on his downtown assignments. Three inches of snow were blanketing Dallas at the time. Officer C. B. Byrum holds back traffic to let Hershorn cross the crowded intersection.

St. Francis Bids For NIT Berth Against Pirates

(By The Associated Press)

A game between the nation's 15th-ranked college basketball team and one which is not even among the first 20 normally would mean no more than just another entry in the record books.

But on the outcome of tonight's St. Francis of Brooklyn-Seton Hall tilt in South Orange, N. J., hinges:

1. St. Francis' unbeaten string which has reached 11 games.

2. An almost certain invite to the National Invitation Tournament.

The Terriers, the No. 15 team, never have won on Seton Hall's home court. This time, however, they have a team capable of doing it.

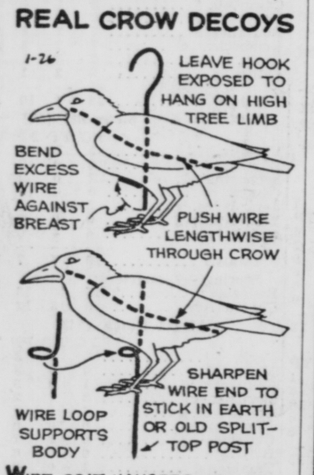

SETON HALL is no pushover. The Pirates are 13-1 on the year, having lost only to Cincinnati in the Richmond, Va., Christmas tournament last month—and they dropped that one by a single point, 82-81.

Surprising Temple also will be seeking to protect its undefeated record tonight. The Owls should make it 12 in a row against Delaware.

In last night's action, Fordham dropped a 76-65 decision to Yale as Johnny Lee poured in 31 points for the Elis. It was Fordham's 10th defeat in 13 games.

Jackrabbit Capital

Jordan, Mont. (AP)—This small Montana town once called "the most lonesome town in the United States," has so many rabbits that it claims to be the jackrabbit capital of the world. One shipper sent 17,000 rabbits to market, but old timers claim as many jackrabbits are on hand now as there ever were.

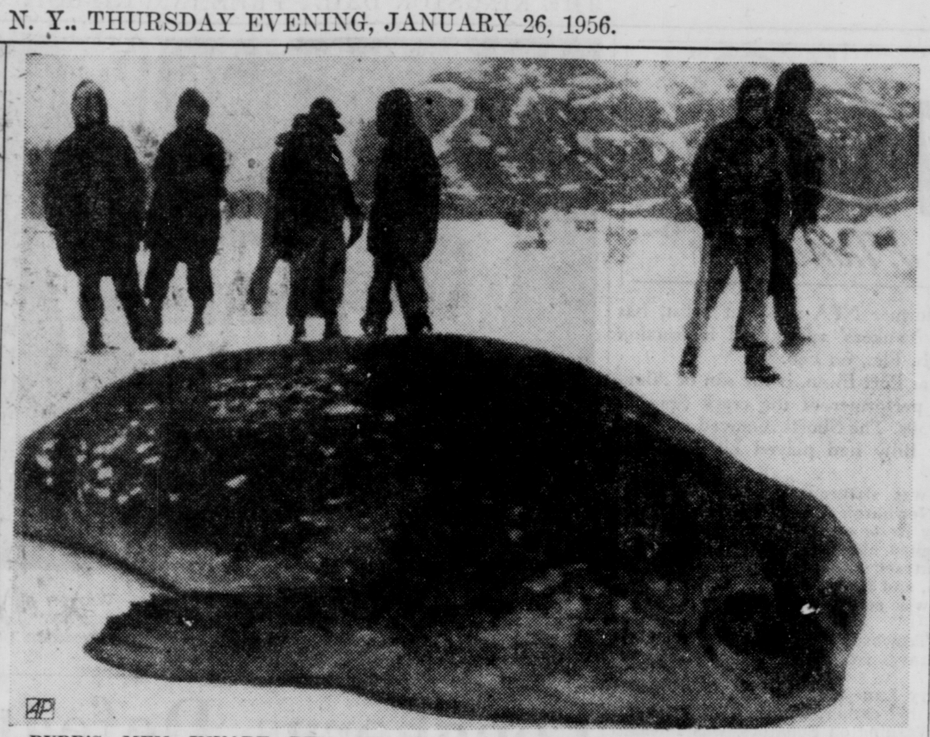

AND HOW!—Actress Rhonda Fleming shimmies through an Indian dance after her costume won first prize at the annual Golden Nugget Ball in Palm Springs, Calif. The affair, held for charity, usually is attended by many film notables.

MAKES HISTORY—World's champion corn grower is 16-year-old Lamar Ratliff of Baldwin, Miss. He harvested 304.38 bushels of corn from a single acre of land, first person in history to achieve such a tremendous yield. His feat has been likened to cracking the sound barrier, running the four-minute mile or conquering Mt. Everest. He used an eight-year-old mule to do the cultivating and grew 25,850 stalks of corn. Farm Journal, Inc., presented Lamar with $1000 for the feat. His father, Paul, also got $1000 for coaching the young 4-H'er. Lamar above displays two ears of his corn.

Philadelphia, Jan. 26 (AP) — The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission has given a boxing license back to No. 7 middleweight Joey Giardello, recently released from prison.

Commissioner Alfred M. Klein said yesterday the boxer was reinstated after he appeared before the commission in person and after a number of public officials recommended he be given another chance.

The 25-year-old fighter had served part of a term for assault and battery during an altercation at a South Philadelphia gasoline station.

The United States exports about two per cent of the passenger automobiles it produces.

Utica Is Judged Having Best Fire Prevention Week

Boston, Jan. 26 (AP)—The city of Utica today was cited by the National Fire Protection Assn. for having the best 1955 municipal fire prevention week program in New York state.

The association, announcing winners in its international fire prevention week contest, awarded second place among New York communities to Rochester and third place to Watertown. Honorable mention went to Albany, Jamestown and New Hyde Park.

Other winners in New York state were:

Industrial division — Lederle Laboratories, American Cyanamid Co., Pearl River, ninth place; Charles Pfizer and Co. Inc., Brooklyn, tie for 17th place.

U. S. Navy—Naval Supply Depot, Scotia, second place.

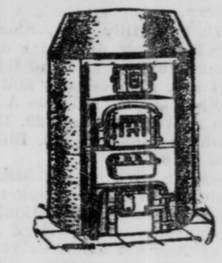

Roche to Die Tonight

Ossining, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—John Francis Roche, 28, who has admitted five murders, sought spiritual consolation today a few hours before his scheduled death in Sing Sing Prison's electric chair. He conferred with Father Thomas J. Donovan. Warden Wilfred L. Denno said that Roche, a death house inmate for nearly 14 months, had been seeing Father Donovan regularly. He will be electrocuted shortly before midnight.

Diaper Is Signal

Flint, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Thelma Haywood, 47, lost control of her car. It plunged across a ditch and landed astride a double track railroad crossing. With two trains bearing down on the car, Mrs. Haywood grabbed a diaper and waved down the slowly moving trains.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

A story is told of a man, under the influence of "red eye," who was seated on a stool in a favorite tavern in Texas. Suddenly, he stood up and yelled: "Hey, you guys, I want to say somthing." Then he shouted to the crowd: "I can lick any guy in this country, outside of the State of Texas."

The crowd knew he was tipsy. They roared with laughter.

Mr. Hutton

The man sat down on the stool, ordered a few more Texas dew drops, then stood up and yelled again: "Hey, you guys, I want to include in my statement: 'I can lick any guy, including the State of Texas'."

He finally came to. The bartender gave him a towel. He wiped the blood from his face and again got on the stool and yelled: "Hey, you guys, I just want to say I took in too much territory."

The story brings to thought the question: Are we taking in too much territory in assuming the obligation to support, by gifts, grants, "loans," planes and arms, countries which seek independence from Colonialism? Or to support countries which impose Colonialism?

If we continue to do so, can our 50-cent dollars hold the line? What will the national debt be if, as, and when, our taking sides in other peoples' quarrels ever ends?

When will this all stop?

Should we take sides with Israel against the Arabs, or vice versa? With France against Algiers, or the other way around?

Neighbor, is this the way to make friends — by gifts and grants, without military divisions in return?

Opposite Flows

The fact that the blood in their gills flows one direction and the water in another, enables fish to utilize the oxygen in water most efficiently.

Briefly Told

CATSKILL, Jan. 26 (AP)—John Beers, 45, a farmer was burned to death last night when a large farmhouse was destroyed by fire in an isolated section of Greene county.

Dr. Mahlon H. Atkinson, Greene county coroner, said Beers had left a truck parked outside the house and apparently had dashed into the building to bring out something.

CORTLAND, Jan. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Ida May Chipman died in a nursing home here yesterday. She was 100 years old.

GLOVERSVILLE, Jan. 26 (AP)—For six generations, chiefs of the Gloversville Police Department have used the same chair — a three-legged contraption with a treacherous swivel action.

Chief John G. Farrell recently found the chair in pieces. A note on his desk from Lieut. Loren Baker read:

"The chair fell apart while I was in it last night, hurling me to the floor, no damage."

A new chair has been ordered.

ALBANY, Jan. 26 (AP)—Justice Earle C. Bastow of the Appellate Division has been shifted from the court's first department to the fourth department, effective Jan. 31.

The shift, announced by Gov. Harriman yesterday, fills a vacancy on the fourth department's Appellate bench created by the retirement of Justice H. Douglass Van Duser.

The first department's seat is in Manhattan. The fourth's is in Rochester.

ALBANY, Jan. 26 (AP)—Gov. Harriman says his budget for fiscal 1956-57 will include a request for $165,000 for water pollution control.

This would be a one-third increase over the current year's outlay.

Harriman met yesterday with members of the State Pollution Control Board.

A spokesman for Harriman said the governor told the board "its activities have been hampered by inadequate finances during the previous administration."

BREMERTON, Wash., Jan. 26 (AP)—John D. Lomnici, 21, son of John Michael Lomnici of Cheektowaga, N. Y., was killed Tuesday night when the car he was driving struck concrete blocks at the end of a deadend street.

Lomnici, an aviation boatswain's mate, was attached temporarily to the U. S. naval barracks here.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 26 (AP)—Carmine De Sapio, Tammany Hall chieftain, and Rep. Buckley (D-N.Y.), two of Gov. Averell Harriman's boosters for president, have been told Maryland intends to stay neutral for the present.

The New Yorkers conferred yesterday with Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, Maryland's Democratic national committeeman. He said they asked that Maryland's votes to the Democratic presidential nominating convention in Chicago be pledged to Harriman.

D'Alesandro said he assured De Sapio and Buckley that "we like Harriman," but the state is remaining unpledged for the time being.

ALBANY, Jan. 26 (AP)—The city of Yonkers has been given a grant of $2,178 by the State Public Works Department for preparation of preliminary plans for five sanitary sewer extensions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson says an average cut of eight per cent below last year is needed to prevent overproduction of summer and late crops of potatoes.

Planting guides — which are merely advisory to growers—recommended sharp cutbacks for Maine, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California. Upper New York State's proposed acreage was 42,000, same as last year. Long Island's recommended acreage was 51,300, a five per cent cutback from last year.

ALBANY, Jan. 26 (AP)—The State Tax Department has issued a reminder to employers that Feb. 15 is the deadline for filing "information reports" on the amount of salary paid employes.

The information will be matched against individual state income tax returns for 1955, Due next April 16. The department said yesterday this double-check was one of its "major weapons" against tax delinquency.

Would Freeze Newsprint

Quebec, Jan. 26 —A bill to freeze newsprint prices for Quebec consumers has been approved 51-21 by the Quebec Provincial Assembly on its decisive second reading. Date of the third and final reading of the measure has not been announced. Conservative (Union Nationale) Premier Maurice Duplessis urged unanimous support for the measure on the second ballot last night but met the solid opposition of the Liberal party. Duplessis earlier this month said the newsprint industry would be put under controls because the industry rejected his request that Quebec newspapers be exempted from a recent $4 price increase. The premier said the controls would not affect newsprint exports.

Carey Cites Effect

Westbury, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—State Agricultural Commissioner Daniel J. Carey says repeal of his department's power to limit issuance of milk dealers' licenses would have a "disturbing effect" on milk marketing conditions in New York state. Addressing a meeting of the Nassau-Suffolk milk dealers education committee here last night, he said "proponents of more and more milk dealers' licenses have failed to consider all the facts involved." Pending in the Legislature are bills to repeal the department's power to refuse to license new dealers.

anything done get a busy man to do it. He said Kingston was "extremely lucky" to have Sen. Wicks in the state legislative body.

Clarence H. Buddenhagen, banquet committee chairman, introduced J. Ellis Briggs, 1955 president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, who in turn introduced Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

Mayor Stang recalled the electrifying announcement two years ago that IBM was coming to Kingston, pointing out that the Saugerties road and surrounding area had gained sudden importance not unlike the fabulous gold rush of a century ago.

THE MAYOR pointed out that everyone in the Kingston area had felt the impact of the announcement. "To say we are happy would be putting it mildly." The city has awakened to what can and must be done in the future, he said.

He cited three momentous events within the last several years, each of which was an event of tremendous impact on the area—the opening of the thruway, coming of IBM and construction of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge.

He congratulated the Chamber of Commerce and its immediate past president and committees for their active part in the growth of the community, pointing out that Kingston was going to "move ahead.""

He drew a laugh when he expressed the wish that IBM was inside the city limits "for more reasons' than one." The city of Kingston will "reap benefits in one way and another," however. He said Kingston was now "growing up . . . we've got an injection of vitamin pills."

"WE BID YOU welcome, sir," Mayor Stang concluded, addressing Mr. Watson. "Anything we can do please call on us. We want you to feel at home and together we will keep Kingston marching ahead."

Mr. Briggs told the mayor he had been given a "lot of hot potatoes" to handle during the past two years but they hadn't hurt him any, as was demonstrated when the votes were counted last November.

Mr. Briggs paid tribute to the cooperation and team spirit of the 620 members of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, praised the Chamber's executive committee, the various committees and their chairmen, mentioning particularly the Chamber's skillful executive secretary, Albert C. Kurdt, "a glutton for punishment."

HE SAID Mr. Kurdt, working in cooperation with the banquet committee, had handled many of the details for the annual dinner meeting. He described Mr. Kurdt and his secretary, Rita Herzog, as the Chamber's "only professionals. The rest of us are just amateurs."

Mr. Briggs pointed out that with the opening of the Thruway, the coming of IBM, building of the new bridge, new homes etc., this could no longer be called the 'land of Rip Van Winkle."

He said Kingston felt proud it had been selected for erection of an IBM Plant, that it was "almost like a dream." He pointed to the efforts of Robert M. Peebles and his Area Industrial Development Committee a couple of years ago to raise funds in a campaign to bring new industry into the area and the incredible change in a piece of pasture land, just north of the city—the Pratt Boice property—where now stands a multi-million dollar IBM plant.

'THAT IBM CROWD sneaked up on us," Mr. Briggs said, pointing out that they had "brought their own money, thank goodness!" More than 2,500 people are employed on a site that two years ago was a dairy farm, he said.

You used to see advertisements in local papers to get people to go to Washington, D. C., for jobs, Mr. Briggs said, but now it's in reverse. They advertise in Washington for skilled personnel to work in the Kingston area.

"WE HAVE MANY distinguished persons, including wives, in the audience tonight but due to the time element we will limit introductions to the following men we are certain everyone wants to meet:"

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, an associate of Mr. Watson's on the New York State Juvenile Delinquency Commission; Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, representing Ulster county in the New York State Assembly; Charles Relyea, chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors; Percy Bush, supervisor of the Town of Ulster; Charles F. McElwain, general manager of the Military Products Division of IBM at World Headquarters; Ernest M. Heppner, Ulster county member of the New York State Bridge Authority; H. Wisner Miller, Jr., general manager of the Electric Typewriter Division of IBM at World Headquarters; Thomas Reynolds, president of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce; William J. Mair, vice-president of IBM and general manager of Poughkeepsie operations; Herbert W. Saltford, member of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and president of the Poughkeepsie Chamber of Commerce; Gavin A. Cullen, general manager of the Kingston plant of IBM; Donald Closs, president of the Rhinebeck Business and Professional Men's Association; A. Chester Haen, chairman of the Rhinebeck Bridge Committee, and John R. Doyle, president of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Silkworth spoke briefly, pointing out that the history of Kingston had begun more than 300 years ago, that the city had grown steadily and was finally approaching a point where it was "bursting at the seams."

HE SAID he was sure the members of the Chamber of Commerce would respond willingly to the call for service, if they were asked. He said each member of the Chamber should keep in mind a central thought in the form of a question, Where do we go from here? In doing this the membership and its officers would be prepared to meet any obstacle, he said.

Invocation was by the Rev. Dr. Kenneth N. Alexander, president of the Kingston Ministerial Association, and benediction by the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Penn Station Picketed

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The Transport Workers Union (TWU), charging the Pennsylvania Railroad has laid off more than 2,000 maintenance workers, has started picketing Pennsylvania Station. TWU President Michael J. Quill says the picketing will be continued "across the Pennsy system from New York to St. Louis." The TWU represents thousands of non-operating employes of the railroad.

The United States was the first nation to plan a capital exclusively for its seat of government (Washington, D. C.).

Tunnel Pumped Out

New York, Jan. 26 —Workmen today began a three-day "back-breaking" job of pumping out the flooded Manhattan section of a new 100 million dollar Lincoln Tunnel. A break yesterday caused water to cascade into the tube. Nobody was injured but three sandhogs were forced to flee for their lives. The Manhattan section was being bored west to join another section being driven east under the Hudson river from the New Jersey shore. They had not been linked.
